

Tax Relief for Elderly Passes State Senate

Rural, Urban Forces
Enthusiastic About
Proposed Change

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Substantial property tax relief for the elderly would be authorized by a constitutional amendment approved for the first time by the Senate Wednesday.

The amendment that now goes to the Assembly for action and must be considered by both houses again in the 1973 session and a statewide referendum would authorize the setting of property taxes for owner-occupied residences owned by persons over 65, at a different level from the uniform community level required for other property.

At present, all property in a community must be taxed at a uniform rate.

An amendment to the measure adopted along with the resolution provides that the state pay the communities sums equalling the amount of taxes excused for the elderly.

The resolution was adopted by a considerable majority on a voice vote despite a lengthy and intense debate on the floor.

Sen. Raymond Johnson, R-Eau Claire, opposed the amendment calling it a Milwaukee County proposal that would saddle the state with the bills for excessive spending in that city. But representatives of several primarily rural areas of the state argued as strongly for the measure.

Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Rosendale, told the Senate that the City of Fond du Lac's tax rate is either second or third highest in the state and that relief is needed there for the elderly.

Sen. Carl Thompson, D-Stoughton, reminded Johnson of a taxpayers' meeting in Beloit Monday that attracted 1,500 persons to the city council chambers to plead for a revision in the tax assessment procedures. Those people are not Milwaukeeans, Thompson told the Senate and they want relief.

Thompson, however, expressed some concern for an across-the-board relief measure for the elderly. He said such a measure that would benefit the "well-heeled" as well as the poor would be costly and unwise.

Hollander, who had proposed an amendment, later rejected, that would limit the relief and special property tax consideration to those with individual incomes under $2,500 a year, pointed out that exact provisions of the measure could be written into law after the constitutional amendment is adopted.

Hollander had moved for rejection of the resolution when it was considered several weeks ago. But, when the Senate voted to reconsider their action in light of considerable public interest in the proposal, Hollander demonstrated active support of it.

Care Ordered for GI Drug Addicts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has told the military to identify and treat drug addicts in uniform, not punish them.

Without a dissenting vote, the Senate Wednesday amended the draft-extension bill to require treatment and rehabilitation centers and to encourage servicemen to use them without fear of punishment.

Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, sponsor of the proposal, charged the military has attempted to sweep the problem under the rug by dishonorably discharging 11,000 of 16,000 identified addicts.

He said the widespread use of hard drugs in Vietnam—particularly heroin—requires rehabilitation.

Greater Risk

Heroin usage is so commonplace in Vietnam, he added, that "an inductee sent to Vietnam runs more risk of becoming a casualty of heroin than of the Viet Cong or North Vietnamese."

"It is no longer a private concern of the individual services but a problem of the entire nation that, if not controlled, will cause decades of irreparable damage to our civilian society," he said.

Another draft bill amendment approved Wednesday calls for the President to seek new methods of controlling international

Generous Draft Limit Approved by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved the first congressional limit on draft calls in 30 years—but put it safely above the number likely to be inducted.

The 67-11 vote Wednesday set the ceiling for the year starting July 1 at 130,000 men with the call up for fiscal 1973 limited to 140,000.

The Pentagon has estimated the draft for the next fiscal year at 114,000.

The action Wednesday, along with approval of two amendments dealing with drug addiction in the military cleared the way for today's start of a weeks debate on U.S. Indochina policy.

A vote is scheduled next Wednesday on the McGovern-Hatfield amendment to cut off funds for U.S. operations in Indochina by Dec. 31.

Expected to Lose

Indications are it will lose by a margin similar to last year's 55-39 vote.

The Senate Armed Services Committee had voted to place a 150,000 annual ceiling on draft calls over the next two years but allowing the President to exceed the number by declaring "urgent national security reasons" required it.

But Armed Services Chairman John C. Stennis, who sponsored the provision in the committee, agreed Wednesday to reduce the numbers and take out the escape clause, saying changed conditions have made it unnecessary.

After the ceilings were set the Senate approved 78 to 4 an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to require congressional authorization for inductions over the ceiling.

The Senate then rejected 54 to 25 a proposal by Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, to lower draft calls to 100,000 next year and 60,000 the following year.

The debate on the McGovern-Hatfield amendment comes at the end of a week of lobbying on its behalf by lawyers, businessmen, labor leaders, church officials and others.

The McGovern-Hatfield forces also have launched a series of radio commercials designed to generate mail from constituents of doubtful senators.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, a McGovern-Hatfield supporter, said last week he doubts the lobbying and other pressure will be much help since everyone's mind is already made up on the issue.

Bodies of 12 Men, Woman Found in Lot

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The bodies of 12 men and a woman, all shot between the eyes, have been found buried in a vacant lot next to a movie house in a small town in northern Mexico, the newspaper El Sol reported today.

The report said the bodies were found in Escandon, near Juarez, on land belonging to Mayor Raimundo Palacios' brother Ricardo.

El Sol in a dispatch from Escandon said the mayor told it: His brother sent several workers to start digging the foundations of a building he planned. The shovel of one of the men hit something with a dull thud, and the laborer found it was a human head.

The laborer ran away in terror, invoking the protection of the "Holy Virgin and all the saints."

The other workers gathered around and started digging. They turned up another 12 bodies, all within a radius of about 50 yards.

The clothes on the bodies had not rotted, indicating that they had been buried recently.

Eating DDT Safe, Experimenters Say

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — A husband and wife who say they consumed DDT daily for three months report they're feeling fine, plan to write a book and may even try it again.

Robert Loibl, 60, says his wife's dandruff vanished and both have heartier appetites since completing the experiment May 20.

Loibl, owner of a pest control firm, said he and his wife conducted the test to back his claims that DDT is safe to use as a pesticide.

He said he and his wife Louise, 44, have received fan mail from persons favoring continued use of the controversial chemical as a pesticide, and have been featured on the cover of a national pest control magazine.

Daily Intake

For 93 days, Loibl says, he and his wife each swallowed a peanut-sized, 19-milligram capsule of DDT at lunch, in front of witnesses. He said their total consumption during the experiment was the equivalent of 83 years' intake for the average person. Some foods contain DDT, used against agricultural pests.

After the experiment began, a University of California chemist called it ridiculous, saying it

Southerner Rumored as Next Tax Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, one of the South's most influential Republicans, says fellow South Carolinian Johnnie McK. Walters, will be named the nation's top tax collector.

Walters, now head of the Justice Department's tax division, will replace Internal Revenue Service Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower, who has been waiting since January for his replacement, Thurmond said Wednesday.

Walters said later in an interview he wouldn't be surprised by the nomination. "I think it's expected," he said. "I think it's likely to occur, adding that 'until the President gives the word, nobody can say for sure'."

Walters, 51 and a lifelong Republican, is from Greenville, S.C. He assumed the Justice Department post in January 1969 when President Nixon took office.

Tax Calls

Walters was a Greenville attorney specializing in tax cases, both corporate and individual, and also served as finance chairman of the Greenville County Republican organization.

"I'm not a switcher. I've always been a Republican," he said, when reminded that other prominent South Carolina Republicans, including Thurmond, once were Democrats.

Thrower, named to the post in March 1969, submitted his resignation to Nixon last January. He said then it was "timely and appropriate for me to submit my resignation with the expectation of returning to the practice of law in Atlanta."

Nixon asked Thrower to postpone his departure "in order to take maximum advantage of your experience in arranging for an orderly transfer of responsibilities."

Private Schools

Thrower and Nixon came under heavy criticism from Thurmond last July after the IRS ruled private schools in the South would lose their tax-exempt status if Negroes were not admitted. Thurmond had said the move probably would contribute to a 1972 Nixon defeat in the South.

Later tax-exempt status was granted some schools after they publicly declared the academies were open to children of all races.

Asked about his own feelings on that controversy, Walters said he would make no comment until he faces Senate confirmation.

Walters said he knows of nothing on his record that would create Senate opposition to him, but added with a slight chuckle, "Well, I'm from South Carolina. Some people seem to think" that is reason enough.

Another Greenville resident, Judge Clement F. Haynsworth, was nominated for the U.S. Supreme Court by Nixon last year, but was defeated in the Senate. Thurmond said Wednesday Walters "is a capable attorney."

of the highest character and a recognized expert in fiscal and tax matters. I feel he will fulfill well the trust reposed in him."

Thurmond was embarrassed last month when he announced former Rep. Albert W. Watson, R-S.C., would be named to a vacancy on the U.S. Court of Military Appeals. Bipartisan Senate opposition developed immediately and Nixon never made the nomination.

Black Caucus Links Sugar Allotment to Apartheid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Black Caucus, advocating a cut in a sugar allotment bill on the floor today, accuses the United States of "complicity with apartheid" through subsidizing of South African sugar.

Promptly after the Rules Committee voted Wednesday against letting the House amend the U.S. sugar market-sharing package assembled by the Agriculture Committee, the 13-member Negro bloc urged colleagues to oppose the continuation of a 60,000-ton annual quota for South Africa.

Three more years of distributing that multimillion-dollar share of the U.S. market to "rich but racist South Africa" will only serve to further alienate black Americans and black Africans," the caucus wrote in an open letter to fellow congressmen.

No Amendments
There was broad Agriculture Committee support for the South Africa quota, approved as part of the over-all measure.

Chairman W. R. Poage, D-Tex., and ranking minority member Rep. Page Belcher, R-Okla., argued successfully for having the bill dispatched to the floor under a closed rule permitting no amendments.

That meant the House would have to take it or leave it—as is.

But one Agriculture Committee dissident, Rep. John G. Dow, D-N.Y., vowed a floor fight in an attempt to get a direct up-or-down decision on the South African quota by itself.

"I'm reasonably hopeful," Dow told a reporter.

Sugar quota critics complain the system results in higher costs for the American consumer. But the bill's backers insist it is aimed at assuring plenty of sugar at reasonable prices while keeping the domestic industry healthy and competitive and at the same time letting friendly foreign governments share equitably in supplying the U.S. market.

The new measure makes a 10 per cent cut in the quotas for the Big Five sugar shippers to the United States — the Philippines, Mexico, the Dominican Republic, Brazil and Peru—and extends the 1948 Sugar Act for three years. Current law expires Dec. 31.

Domestic allotment revisions shift 300,000 tons from the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico to the Florida and Louisiana sugar cane industry. Over-all, the domestic share of the 11.2 million-ton annual U.S. consumption of sugar is 7.06 million tons—with the supply percentages maintained in the bill at 62 domestic and 38 foreign.

In addition, three nations would get new quotas, 11 would obtain increases, the French West Indies quota would be discontinued, and 14 countries' quotas would remain unchanged.

The quotas on sugar that may be brought into the United States from foreign countries are worth about $40 a ton over the world price.

Welfare Plan Of Reagan Is Defeated

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's welfare reform program, which he offered in March as a model for the nation, has been killed by state Senate Democrats who then approved a rival plan.

The defeat in committee Wednesday was a bitter one for the Republican chief executive who has seen major parts of the plan adopted in New York State and considered in other state legislatures.

Reagan had counted on savings from the program: a most recent estimate of $157 million, to balance his $6.74 billion budget.

But the death of the bills, plus a newly discovered $203 million deficit, make it virtually certain that Reagan will have to accept a tax increase this year.

The substitute measure, sponsored by Chairman Anthony C. Beilenson of the Senate Health and Welfare Committee, contains many of the reforms that were in the Reagan plan. But the governor called newsmen to his office and denounced it as a "blatant attempt to force a gigantic tax increase on the people."

"It is nothing but a big bundle of band-aids that isn't going to reform anything," said Reagan who claimed it would cost the state an added $393 million in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Beilenson, a Beverly Hills Democrat, known best as the author of the 1967 legislation liberalizing California's abortion law, said of Reagan: "I frankly don't think he knows what he's talking about. I don't understand the governor's attitude. If he doesn't change it, we're not going to get reform." He said his plan would save $9 million.

About 2.5 million Californians are on welfare and the program cost about $2.3 billion in the current year ending June 30. Unchecked, it will rise to nearly $3 billion next year, Reagan claimed.

The Beilenson plan, a 17-point proposal designed to improve public assistance by raising grants and creating jobs, incorporated about two-thirds of Reagan's welfare reform language.

The city's 1,557,932 registered voters turned out Tuesday in the referendum that cost the city more than $1 million.

The proposal was defeated.

Changes Mainly Political China Trade Embargo Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 21-year U.S. embargo on trade with mainland China fell officially today, but the benefits are expected to be more diplomatic than financial.

In line with moves to improve relations with the Peking government, the White House scheduled release today of the nonstrategic goods Americans may sell in China.

By allowing U.S. businessmen to deal with the mainland government for the first time since the Communist takeover, the administration has placed China on a trading basis similar to the Soviet Union.

The list of goods permitted under what is termed a general license includes largely nontechnological items with such highly sophisticated products as computers, diesel engines, electronic equipment and jet engines omitted.

General license goods can be exported without item-by-item government approval.

Businessmen may ask the government to approve export of items not on the list, but they must obtain a specific license to do so. Although shipment of some of these items has been allowed, approval is slow and uncertain.

Last week, for example, the Commerce Department approved export of $85 million in trucking equipment to the Soviet Union, after holding back the application for two years.

In announcing easing of the trade barrier with China, President Nixon included it as part of a general effort to normalize U.S. relations with Peking and end the isolation of the Asian giant from the rest of the world.

The move certainly won't provide a vast new field of profit for American exporters, not if experience with Soviet Union is a valid measuring stick.

In 1970, U.S. exports to Russia totaled $118.5 million, a small part of the United States' more than $40 billion trade with other countries.

Officials expect trade with China will make up a similarly small part of total U.S. exports, at least in the next few years.

China's trade with non-Communist countries is estimated at $2 billion, although expanding in recent years.

"The main impetus behind the expansion in this trade was the pressing need in China for technologically advanced machinery, industrial raw materials, fertilizers and wheat," the Commerce Department said in a recent report.

"In exchange, the free world obtained primarily crude agricultural materials, textiles and foodstuffs."

Another barrier to expanded Chinese trade is an absence of long-term credit from other countries, forcing China to trade largely "on a cash, short-term or barter basis," the department said.

Ballots Cost Chicago Taxpayers $4.19 Each

CHICAGO (AP) — A referendum on the direct election of school board members cost Chicago taxpayers $4.19 for each ballot cast in the record low voter turnout.

The figure came Wednesday from Stanley T. Kusper, chairman of the Chicago Board of Election Commissioners. Kusper said only 15.7 per cent of the city's 1,557,932 registered voters turned out Tuesday in the referendum that cost the city more than $1 million.

The proposal was defeated.

James Kolosso, a member of the plan commission and an executive with International Wagenknecht, which has an option on the present ballpark site, said the company plans to exercise its option at a July 1 board meeting. Kolosso has also said that the company probably will begin construction at the site in spring, 1972. Adams said Wed- nesday that he's going under the assumption that this is the last year for the old Menasha Ball- park, and a new one will be needed for 1972. The hassle between LaCount and Adams erupted when La- Count wondered aloud if he would be "invited" to a meeting of the street and sanitation committee set for tonight. Sixth Ward Ald. Robert Winarski is chairman of that committee, and it's no secret that Winarski and LaCount have differences.

Adm. Draper Kauffman Navy District Chief Surveys Appleton Unit

The Appleton Naval Reserve Center underwent a brief survey by the commandant of the Ninth Naval District, Adm. Draper L. Kauffman.

After touring facilities, Kauffman discussed needs with officials from the Appleton center along with representatives from units in Green Bay, Sheboygan and Oshkosh. He departed before noon for luncheon and further inspection in Sheboygan.

The visit was the admiral's first official one to Appleton since he took command of the district a year ago.

In a brief interview the admiral said he expects that reserve centers will get boosts both in personnel and facilities, due to cuts in military spending now limiting active personnel in the Navy.

He said that in fact such cuts are contingent upon building of a stronger reserve.

The admiral said he favors the current relaxation in naval

Retsons Found Liable in Fire

Liability Set at 70
Per Cent in Blaze
In December, 1965

The owners of Retson's Restaurant, 103 W. College Ave., were found by a Circuit Court jury Tuesday to be 70 per cent liable for a fire Dec. 28, 1965 that did more than $130,000 damage to their business two adjoining firms and the contents of each.

The jury made the ruling after listening to 5½ days of testimony. The purpose of the session was to determine the percentages of liability of parties concerned with the operation of the restaurant, the installation of a french fryer and operation of the unit.

Fire officials determined after the blaze that the fire started in a newly installed french fryer in the kitchen area.

Plaintiffs in the case were 15 insurance companies, representing interests and property of Retson's, the Brettschneider Realty Co., 111 W. College Ave., and the Rose Shop, 107 W. College Ave.

Restaurant Repaired

The owners of the restaurant are George Retson, 513 E. Frances St., and Philip Retson, 1115 E. Meirose Ave. The restaurant was subsequently repaired.

Besides the 70 per cent figure the jury handed down percentages of liability of 15 per cent against Tschank and Christensen Inc., 211 N. Richmond St., the firm which installed the french fryer, 10 per cent on the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co., 807 S. Oneida St.; and five per cent on the Northwest Supply Co., from whom the Retsons purchased the french fryer.

The french fryer was manufactured by Frymaster Corp., Shreveport, La.

Another suit asking monetary damages could be started in the future in the Circuit Court. This hearing was to determine percentages of liability only. Judge Andrew W. Parnell presided.

er hair and sideburns often are the order.

Touching on drug problems, he said usage is not as widespread in the naval reserve as in the active Navy or in land units of other military branches.

He said that drug education and rehabilitation services, however are employed at Great Lakes to handle the problems.

DNR Land Deals Under Scrutiny

BY CAROLYN STEWART
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Sen. Dale McKenna, D-Jefferson, and Sen. Mark Lipscomb, D-Milwaukee, called this morning for a grand jury investigation of allegedly improper land transactions by the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) employees.

McKenna introduced the resolution in the Republican-controlled Senate after checking out questionable transactions involving acquisitions of parcels of property in the southern unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest.

3 Named to Head Area Apostates

GREEN BAY — A priest and two laymen have been named to head the two Fox Cities and Oshkosh Catholic apostates by the Rev. Peter N. Klauk, diocesan director of Apostolate, Inc.

The Rev. James Hablewitz, a recent graduate of the University of Detroit, will be director of the Appleton Apostolate, which has had a temporary lay administrator.

Replacing the Rev. Richard Wochenske, at Neenah-Menasha and Oshkosh, are two laymen. Wochenske is taking a leave of absence from active priesthood and has accepted a post with a counseling center.

James J. Siebers, Kimberly, who has been with the Twin Cities Apostolate since 1957, will be in charge of that office. Earl A. Kandler, an employee at the Oshkosh Apostolate for the past three years, will stay on to head the agency.

Hablewitz is a native of Menasha and recently received a master's degree in marriage and pastoral counseling.

He got his bachelor's degree from Sacred Heart Seminary, St. Paul, Minn. He has served parishes in Clintonville and Little Chute and will now help out at St. Mary Parish, Waupaca, on weekends.

Siebers is a St. Norbert College graduate and holds a master's degree in social work from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. He is president of the Kimberly School Board.

Rogers Wants Democratic National Seat

KAUKAUNA — State Rep. William J. Rogers, D-Kaukauna, has announced his candidacy for one of two Wisconsin seats on the Democratic National Committee.

The special election for the seats will be held June 19 at the State Democratic Convention in Madison. Rogers is the fourth candidate to enter the race. The winner will serve the year remaining in the four-year term of State Rep. Robert T. Huber, Milwaukee, who is resigning because of his duties as speaker of the assembly.

In announcing his candidacy, Rogers said, "I am entering the National Committee's race because of his duties as speaker represent the State Democratic Party than any of the other candidates. I have a good relationship with the young Democrats in the state and have the confidence of the older Democrats. I look forward to helping rebuild the National Democratic Party in terms of the needs of the seventies."

Rogers, who is serving his fifth term in the assembly, is regarded as a "liberal," but has taken a strong stand against liberalizing state abortion laws. He is chairman of the Democratic caucus and vice chairman of the health and social services committee. He also serves on the highways and municipalities committees.

Lipscomb said other questionable transactions have been identified but not investigated in the northern unit, which extends into Washington County.

The two senators have said they have checked out records involving 20 sales to DNR and have found 15 that they alleged are highly questionable.

They said they spent two days checking through corporation papers in the Secretary of State's office and deeds in register of deeds offices, primarily in Jefferson and Waukesha counties to verify allegations that at least one DNR employee has made as much as 3,000 per cent profit on a sale to DNR and that short-lived corporations have been formed for the purpose of buying and selling land to DNR for large sums.

McKenna said that by going through incorporation papers they have discovered individuals, whom they would not identify who have been members of the short-lived corporations and also employees of DNR's land acquisition section.

The senators have called for an impoundment of all department land purchase records by the Criminal Investigation Division of the State Department of Justice. McKenna said that although they have verified some questionable sales in the Kettle Moraine area, they have been told of situations in a number of other parts of the state.

Others Claimed
"When we mentioned our resolution in (Democratic) caucus, four other senators said they knew of the same thing," McKenna said.

"Because of this information being given to senators, and because these practices appear to be statewide in scope, so that one district attorney could handle the investigation we have chosen to pass it through the senate to the attorney general," the two senators said in a joint statement.

The Senate took no action on the resolution, and it was referred to the bottom of the calendar. Because of a backlog of 60 bills and the expectation that the senate will work on the state budget next week, there may be some delay in acting on the resolution.

McKenna said he had not talked to either Republican General Robert Warren or Lester Voigt, secretary of DNR, about the charges.

COG Rejects Merger Proposal

Little Chute village president, action next month on the future said he would make similar moves in Outagamie.

Spierings introduced a motion he has called off plans for the out of Northeastern to allow a committee to meet because of merger, but action was delayed the shortage of time. He said on it until June 22 at a special that COG would be taking some meeting.

Bubolz made no comment on attacks on himself but said he would contact Anderson to learn what had happened.

COG delegates who discussed the merger were severe in their criticism and adamant about working out an alternative. However, Ira Livingston, Town of Grand Chute chairman, said he doubted whether a new arrangement could be effective for Jan. 1, 1972, and also urged more merger talks at the outset of the meeting.

Littlefield said Northeastern and COG are organized under different state statutes, and while counties could join COG, with arrangements having to be made for financial obligations, if the municipality-run COG was to merge with Northeastern, the municipalities would lose their representation, except through the county board.

Deadline to Resign
The rush for county board action to get out of Northeastern comes because the counties must vote to get out by June 30 of the year before they wish to get out. Under this requirement, they must resign this month or they are committed to the organization through 1972.

Meanwhile, there is a push to form a new planning organization for the tri-county area to come in line with federal and state wishes by Jan. 1, 1972. The alternative to a new agency might be continued existence of the two in Winnebago and Outagamie.

Murken was named to head the COG committee to come up with a structure for a new organization, and he and Heaney and Hauser agreed to contact county supervisors in their areas to appraise them of the moves. Edward Spierings,

First Step is Taken Toward Waupaca Sanitary District

WAUPACA — A petition to district be formed around the disposal and inspection of septic tanks. The executive committee explained that: — A sanitary district will create the local authority needed to obtain governmental technical and financial aid to maintain water quality. — It enables setting of and enforcing of standards for waste.

The petition states: — "The continuing pollution of the Chain O' Lakes and the surrounding waters constitutes a hazard to health and the ecology of the entire area, making the formation of a sanitary district essential in order to establish and enforce codes and standards for adequate sewage disposal.

—The public health, comfort, convenience, necessity and the public welfare will be promoted by the establishment of such district and the property included, and surrounding property, will benefit from the establishment of the sanitary district.

Proposed improvements would include a study of the feasibility of the establishment of a sewage collection and treatment system.

This is the first action taken to the property owners and they have been requested to sign and return the petition within 10 days.

Protection is Goal
It has been the stated objective of the Association through the years to protect and maintain the water quality and clean environment of the Chain.

The petition sets into motion the study completed by Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission and its recommendation that a sanitary district be formed around the disposal and inspection of septic tanks.

While the record will show that a majority of the assemblymen declined to throw a block into the road plan, there is a considerable reservoir of doubt on the validity of the new construction combined with criticism of the apparent route. One leading legislator commented privately, after casting his vote in favor of the project, that he regarded it as probably dead. More important than the resistance shown in the legislature, he said, has been the filing of resolutions of protest from sound county boards in the eastern Wisconsin zone the new Interstate would traverse.

vide an additional boost for the upper Wisconsin tourist establishments.

Rep. Jerome Quinn, R-Green Bay, derided the idea that the legislature should dictate highway routing.

"If we begin to lay out highways in this legislature it will be a sad thing," he asserted.

The Orange Bowl festivities in Miami Beach are a long way off but so is the $46,000 goal Appleton High School-East band and drill team members must meet before they can participate in the event.

Students and helpful adults so far have raised approximately $6,000 for the 12-day excursion next winter and fund raising activities will begin to pick up when school closes.

Events scheduled include a sale of handmade ties for Father's Day on Saturday and June 19 at Hoffman Drug Store; an open duplicate bridge tournament June 16 at the Elks Club with master points to be given; parking lot attendants and booth at Appleton's Civic Celebration in July; band performances July 6 and Aug. 4 at Foxes baseball games; a side-walk sale July 21 in front of Prange's and Penney's; a band carnival in August at Telulah Park; and an adult benefit dance Oct. 22 at Rainbow Gardens with the Winnebago Lake Flies providing the music.

Other projects include sales of booster buttons, cookbooks (available about Aug. 1), a stereo recording of the East Woodwind Symphony and Jazz Band with Clark Terry (available about July 1), East nylon jackets (available about July 1) and student-made craft items.

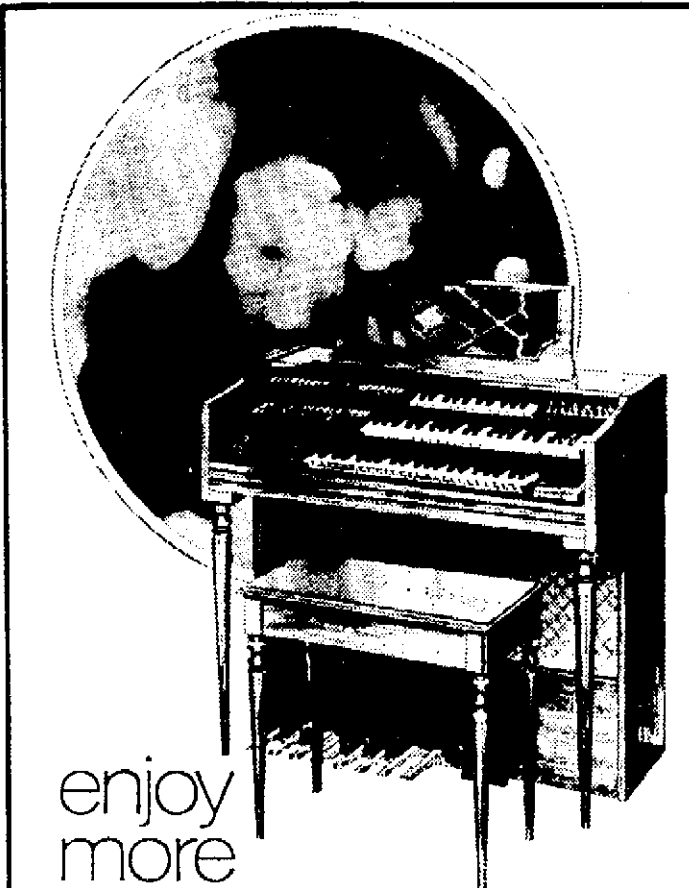

The work bureau at the high school will be open all summer from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. to provide help for persons who have odd jobs. The number is 739-7029.

Students interested in taking private music lessons also may call the work bureau. Six one-half hour lessons will be offered on an instrument for $15.

The cost per student for the trip is $200. Some 230 students will be making the trip accompanied by chaperones.

The tentative itinerary is:

- Dec. 26 — leave Appleton at noon and drive straight through in six buses.
- Dec. 27 — arrive in Miami at 8 p.m. Tentative headquarters are at the Twelve Caesars Hotel in Miami Beach.

Lake Water Quality Study Is Supported

The state Department of Natural Resources has given the go-ahead to a preliminary study which could lead to a monitoring of the lake water quality in part of northeastern Wisconsin.

The approval was sought early by Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission so it could gear its fiscal 1972 hydrological program to include the study.

A monitoring program could be started in January and would provide data on lakes in the Northeastern nine-county area that would be combined with data gathered on 61 streams monitored by the agency during the past two years. Water quality, quantity and other characteristics would be recorded.

Gerald Paul, Northeastern's hydrologist, said that he believed the area's lakes needed monitoring but said first the commission would study existing data, including DNR information on lake classification by counties.

Paul said the early approval allows commitment of part of the new budget to this study to determine what is needed for testing the lakes and how to do it. The goal is to have total information on all the surface water in the area.

The hydrological grant will be about $15,000 which will be matched by local contribution.

Avery Island a Lovely Place Despite Man

EVERY ISLAND, La. (AP) — The men who work on this lush green hump of high land in the swamps of Louisiana take its riches, but leave it lovely.

Avery Island stands today as a three-square-mile showcase example that man can live with nature without kicking her in the teeth.

Because of this, the vine-covered post office here was chosen by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount as the site for first-day sales of four new postage stamps in the wildlife conservation series.

Dr. Elvis J. Sahr of New York, president of the National Audubon Society, and Asst. Postmaster General James W. Hargrove are scheduled to speak at the special ceremonies Saturday at the island's jungle gardens.

One of the four 8-cent stamps depicts an alligator. The others feature a polar bear, a trout and a California condor. All were done by California artist Sanley W. Galli—the first of a series of stamps to call attention to wildlife conservation.

102 Oil Wells

There are 102 oil wells on the "island" but you have to look sharply to see them.

At these oil wells, what can't be put underground is hidden or landscaped.

There also is a factory devoted to brewing a pungent red pepper sauce and a major salt mine.

But to conservationists, the striking aspect of Avery Island are its great live oaks, hung with Spanish moss; its blaze of subtropical flowers; its flocks of tranquil heron and snowy egret; the alligators in its bayous; and the deer and bear in its forests, not to mention muskrat, nutria, frog and bobcats.

No hunting is allowed.

It isn't all wildlife. Neatly terraced fields grow red peppers that go into the sauce. The factory and farming employ about 100 of the island's 700 residents—with hundreds of temporary workers brought in during pepper picking time.

Another 125 residents work in the salt mine.

Avery Island is not actually an island. It is the topmost pinnacle of a mountain of rock salt as big as Mt. Everest, embedded in the earth's crust.

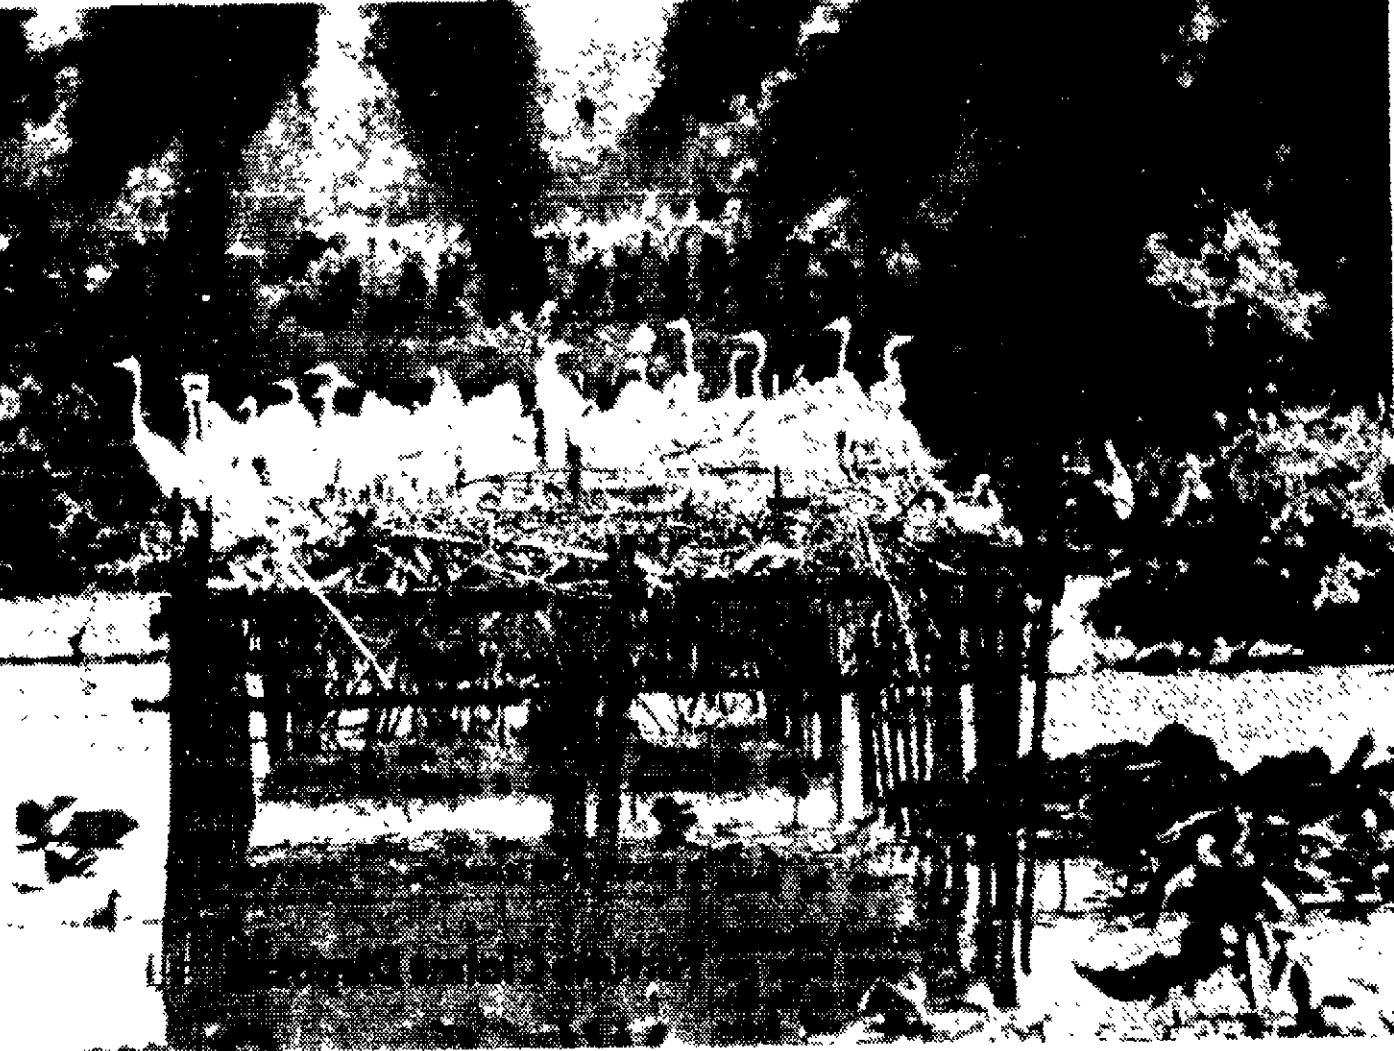

That's a lot of salt—40,000 feet of it, straight down.

The tip of this underground mountain, wearing a layer of hump, nine miles south of New Orleans, is owned by Avery Island, Inc. The company is controlled by descendants of John Craig Marsh, Daniel D. Avery and Edmund McIlhenny.

It rises to 152 feet above sea level.

Everything attached to the since Edward Avery McIlhenny returned home in 1865 after a long absence and was incensed to find that hunters had nearly wiped out the snowy egret to get a few special feathers which were in demand for ladies hats and hairdos—the aigrettes.

Eight young egrets were released after considerable toil. They made the island their home. There are now thousands of them. Conservation, mixed with industry, has kept the island a place of beauty.

The Snowy Egret, once on the verge of extinction in Louisiana, now thrives at Avery Island's bird city.

The island, near New Iberia, La., has been a wildlife refuge since 1865. (AP Wirephoto)

Mitchell Scores Zeal for Accused

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under the Nixon administration's acknowledged goal of a tougher application of criminal law, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell says "a preoccupation for the accused has done violence to fairness for the accuser."

In speech to an audience of prosecutors, Mitchell scored Wednesday "overweening attention to proceduralisms" in criminal trials, "extravagant means by which evidence is often disallowed," and "the astonishing extremities that some courts have reached in demanding proof of guilt."

Mitchell told the National District Attorneys Association, the Nixon administration while mindful of constitutional rights of criminal defendants, has "a very serious intent to bring real meaning to our adversary court system—to assure justice to the accuser as well as to the accused."

Among other things, he said, "I refer to the fatuous argument that because Americans read the newspapers and watch television, it is impossible for us to get impartial juries."

Hung Jury

Last month, a Connecticut judge dismissed murder charges against Black Panther leader Bobby Seale after his first trial ended with a hung jury. To empanel an impartial jury for a second trial the judge said, would require "a superhuman effort."

Although he did not specifically mention the Seale case, Mitchell did give two examples of what he termed "courtroom pettifoggery," in which criminal convictions were overturned in federal appeals courts.

"As most of you are painfully aware," Mitchell said, "a preoccupation for the accused has done violence to fairness for the accuser."

"I believe the federal government can and should provide the leadership in restoring the balance," Mitchell said. "And in its jurisdiction, the Department of Justice has taken and is taking meaningful steps to strengthen the prosecutor in order to balance the scales of justice."

Among other steps, Mitchell listed the resumption of court-authorized wiretapping in criminal cases and Law Enforcement Assistance Administration grants of $12 million "for strengthening state and county prosecution systems."

The new legislation also would make it more difficult for persons with a criminal conviction to obtain bond while their case is being appealed.

Missing Army Officer Now In Sweden, Authorities Say

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A young West Point graduate missing from his unit after being ordered to Vietnam is in Sweden and has asked to stay, aliens police said today.

A police official said 1st Lt. John R. Vequist, 24, Pittsburg, Kan., arrived "three days before the end of last month" and contacted police.

He had been assigned to a U.S. Army artillery unit at Kaiserslautern in West Germany. He disappeared on May 20.

"I am not allowed to say if Vequist has sought asylum here," the police official said. "However, he has asked permission for a prolonged stay in Sweden. I'm sending his case to the immigration authorities later today."

The official declined to say where Vequist is staying in Sweden.

Vequist was graduated from West Point in 1969, finishing 232nd out of a class of 800. He then attended the Army Air Defense School at Ft. Bliss, Tex., and went to Germany in December 1969.

Army officials in Washington said they had no information to indicate Vequist was an opponent of the Indochina war.

He left his base in Germany shortly after receiving orders to leave for Vietnam by Oct. 31.

The Army said it believed his wife was with him in Sweden where about 245 GIs have sought refuge since 1966.

Vequist's commander in Germany said: "Up until the time of Lt. Vequist's unauthorized departure, his performance and conduct had been fully satisfactory."

Lockheed Bail-Out Still a Big Question

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says the government proposal to bail out Lockheed Aircraft Corp. should not be considered a precedent.

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., says "it's the case that makes the precedent, not the conversation."

Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard told the Senate Banking Committee Wednesday a government guarantee of up to $250 million in bank loans to Lockheed to finance production of its new TriStar jumbo jet would be "justified under the circumstances."

Without the guarantee, he said, Lockheed faces bankruptcy, and the nation will be saddled with substantial additional unemployment in an industry already hard hit by defense procurement cutbacks.

The loan guarantee, he said, involves "little risk to the government," and should be regarded as "a specific single case."

Packard said he would oppose the Lockheed loan guarantee if he considered it to be a precedent.

Denying Lockheed has been given "sweetheart" contracts to improve its financial position.

Packard said cost overrun disputes with the top defense contractor were settled on the basis of continuing production on aircraft and missiles.

Funds Needed

"The provision of additional funds by the Department of Defense was necessary to obtain 81 C-5 aircraft which were on order from Lockheed whether or not the company was forced into bankruptcy through lack of financing to continue the commercial airbus program," he said.

Packard said Lockheed still owes the government $100 million, to be repaid beginning in 1974, of its $200 million total loss on the C-5 program.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chairman of the Banking Committee, said hearings on the Lockheed loan probably will continue another two or three weeks.

Cigarette Sales Up, but Usage Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are smoking less but there's more of them doing it, the Federal Trade Commission says.

The FTC said Wednesday total sales of cigarettes increased in 1970 but the per capita consumption dropped from 199.3 packs per person to 173.5 packs. Cigarette consumption is calculated for United States residents and overseas military personnel 18 years or over.

The record average consumption was 214.3 packs in 1963, but has decreased steadily since the 1964 surgeon general report linking cigarette smoking and cancer.

Cigarette manufacturers spent $314.7 million on promotion in 1970 compared with $305.9 million in 1969. Of the 1970 expenditure, $217.4 million went for television and radio commercials.

The 1970 Public Health Cigarette Smoking Act, effective Jan. 1, 1971, prohibited further television and radio advertising of cigarettes.

Cigarette sales in 1970 totaled 28.7 billion packs, compared with 26.4 billion in 1969 and the all-time high of 27 billion packs in 1968.

South Vietnam Offers Oil Rights

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government opened seized on the prospective oil development during the winter. "Are the potentially rich oil leases off the coast of South Vietnam responsible for the Nixon administration's failure to get our sons out of Vietnam?" asked Another Mother for Peace, a group which launched a letter-writing campaign demanding a Senate investigation.

Economic Minister Pham Kim Ngoc said about 30 American, Japanese and European firms had expressed an interest in looking for oil in the continental shelf off the Mekong Delta, an area stretching from the South China Sea around the southern tip of Vietnam into the Gulf of Siam.

The area will be divided into blocs, and "all exploration and exploitation rights will be granted through open tenders and public bidding," Ngoc said. The bidding had been scheduled to open in February but was delayed for more discussions within the government.

The government has been saying since last winter that rich oil deposits are beneath the continental shelf off the delta, and President Nguyen Van Thieu last December signed a national petroleum law.

The oil companies now have 60 days to file their bids. The National Petroleum Board will evaluate the applications and make recommendations to the government, Ngoc said it probably would be "at least two years" before production began.

Waffle Brunch With Prune Topping

Anytime from 9 till 12

 Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

Brunch it's called and it's a kind of meal that won't be found in any cookbook of yesterday. Yet it's a special time of day for entertaining with graciousness, charm and good food.

Invite new neighbors over for brunch as a way to get acquainted... have a brunch for that morning committee session while planning for next year's club agenda... end an early morning round of golf with a hearty brunch... for weekend guests, there simply is no better way to entertain.

Sunday brunch is how the whole idea got started with a dressed up meal that combines all the qualities of breakfast and lunch in one meal. It's a time for lingering over coffee after a wholesome meal that's been glamorized just a bit.

For instance, the ordinary waffle can be served with a dramatic topping of rich, juicy, crushed prunes with an added fillop of whipped cream. (To plump the prunes, cover in a jar or bowl with an equal amount of cold or boiling water, fruit juice or even water with a touch of white wine. Cover and let stand overnight.)

Prunes now come with or without pits. They are cooked easily by putting prunes in water in saucepan, bringing to a boil, simmering 10 minutes, then cooling in liquid.

An attractive idea for serving canned salmon is to make individual pastry tart baskets to transform an everyday dish into conversation pieces that certainly will tempt mid-morning appetites. Another delicious idea is the preparation of rolled pancakes known as crepes with a wholesome banana in its center.

A hearty brunch of Deviled Scrambled Eggs with a Glazed Meat Loaf certainly sounds like a meal to relish, particularly when served with fruit juice, hot rolls or biscuits with jelly and a big pot of coffee.

Ripe Olive Ham Loaf offers a delightful alternative to the usual bacon and eggs with noticeable advantages. It can be baked ahead and be ready when the guests arrive. This makes for perfect planning for the hostess who wants to enjoy the company of her friends rather than be busy with last minute cooking chores. The loaf is delicious cold or hot, so can be an excellent food for drop in anytime invitations. Keep the beverage hot and maybe serve giant popovers as a side delight along with sliced tomatoes, either fresh and cold or freshly broiled and garnished with parsley.

Peachy Plum Fritters, which have a counterpart in every type of folk cooking, are small deep fried quick breads that go so well with any kind of beverage. Youngsters will enjoy these miniature fritters as snacks with cool milk or lemonade. They may be served sugar dusted or plain.

Just thinking about all these foods makes one hungry and wishful for a brunch party or Sunday morning to hurry up and get here for a family morning feast.

WAFFLE BRUNCH

- 1½ cups cooked or plumped pitted prunes, drained
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- Waffle mix
- Sweetened whipped cream

Mash or beat prunes. Add sugar and lemon juice and set aside. Mix waffles according to package directions. Serve waffles hot topped with mound of mashed prunes and whipped

Turn to Page 6, Col. 1

Roll Out Appliance

Refrigerators equipped with glide-out rollers are a real plus for homemakers. The whole appliance can be moved easily to wash the wall and floor around it.

Toffee Meringue For Square Cake

Toffee-Meringue Topping is an unusual icing good for dressing up a basic pan cake. Prepare cake and pour batter in 8-inch square pan. The topping can be made while cake is baking, so that it goes on while cake still warm and not quite done.

TOFFEE-MERINGUE CAKE TOPPING

- 1 egg white
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
- ¼ cup chopped walnuts

Beat egg white until stiff; gradually beat in brown sugar and vanilla extract. Top cake while still hot after it comes from oven; spread meringue evenly. Sprinkle meringue with nuts. Bake 10 to 12 minutes more to finish baking cake and to brown meringue. This recipe may be doubled for 9 x 13-inch cake.

Chocolate Biscuits Created in Minutes

Chocolate flavor seems to please most people. This unusual treatment is used easily with a favorite biscuit dough or refrigerated biscuits for baking.

Roll or pat out biscuit dough to quarter-inch thickness. Cut with biscuit cutter or fancy cookie cutter. Spread half biscuits with softened butter and top with thin slice of sweet chocolate. Place biscuit circle over each chocolate slice. Bake in preheated, 450-degree oven 12 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown.

Just Cook Method

Add cold water to prunes. Bring to boil, then reduce heat and simmer for 10 to 20 minutes. For plumper fruit, rich juice, refrigerate overnight in the syrup.

PEANUT BUTTER PRUNE COOKIES

- ½ cup prunes
- 1¼ cups flour
- ¾ teaspoon baking soda
- ¼ teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- ½ cup peanut butter
- ½ cup shortening
- 1 egg

Pit and finely chop prunes. Mix with one tablespoon of flour. Combine remaining flour with baking soda, baking powder and salt.

Cream sugars with peanut butter and shortening. Add egg; beat well. Add dry ingredients and blend. Fold in prunes. Form into balls about one inch in diameter. Place on cookie sheet and flatten with fork. Bake in 350-degree oven 8 to 10 minutes. Cool on rack. Recipe makes four dozen cookies.

HOT PRUNE BISCUITS

Prepare biscuit mix dough according to instruction and roll out. Cut into strips and wrap dough around pitted, plumped prunes. Bake and serve piping hot.

Smart Shopper's Recipe for Week

The abundant supply of prunes available is amazing! They need very little cooking before serving. This is due to modern processing methods which partially cook and fully pasteurize them.

However, there are several ways to finish cooking prunes before serving in a variety of dishes, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Just remember, when preparing, use about one quart of water to one pound of prunes.

Boiling Water Method

Cover dried prunes with boiling water. Cover container, then cool and refrigerate for 24 hours. The longer the fruit soaks, the plumper it becomes. Juice is light-bodied.

Steaming Method

Turn dried prunes into colander; cover and set over pan of boiling water for 30 minutes or more, until plumped. No syrup with this method.

Soak-and-Cook

Cover prunes with water and soak overnight. Next day bring to a quick boil, then turn down heat and simmer 3 to 5 minutes. This makes a thick, syrupy juice.

Cold Water Method

Turn prunes into a jar or bowl; add cold water. Cover and soak for 24 hours, then refrigerate. Easy way to plump up the prunes you use for baking and such

Tricia Nixon Has Recipe For Chicken

Now that Tricia Nixon is in the news, homemakers might be interested in the Barbecued Chicken recipe she sent to the Intermediate II youngsters at Columbus School.

This is one of the recipes in her personal cookbook she soon will be using as a bride, and it's one of the cherished recipes the grade school collectors were proud to include in their "Chefs' Secrets" cookbook project.

BARBECUED CHICKEN

- 2 small chickens, halved
- ½ cup melted butter
- 2 lemons, juiced
- 1 tablespoon oregano
- Salt, pepper to taste

When chickens are cut up and prepared, marinate in sauce for at least 3 to four hours. The sauce is made by blending together remaining ingredients. After the chicken is marinated, it may be barbecued on grill or baked in oven, basting often with sauce. If baked, the oven temperature should be 325 degrees and baking time about 45 minutes, or until tender.

If cooked over coals on grill, place on grill when coals are dull gray, shot with flame. Barbecue until done, or wrap in foil that's open at top and baste frequently as it cooks.

Teacher Brought Music to Her Life

Phyllis George, the reigning Miss America, is high in her praise of the woman who brought out her love of and talent for music — a commodity that helped place the pageant crown on her head. And the brunetta beauty isn't quiet in her acclaim.

"Whatever I know about music and any accomplishments I may achieve playing the piano, I owe to Dr. Isabel Scionti."

She explained their relationship.

"Mrs. Scionti is my long-time piano teacher and I'd like to tell you about her because she is more than just a piano teacher. Oh yes, she taught me the fundamentals of the piano and how to play but she also instills in her pupils a love of music which lasts a lifetime. Thanks to Dr. Scionti, my life will be full because it will be filled with music always."

"The famed piano teacher taught poise at the piano as well as skill in playing and I can't help but think this influenced the judges as I played the piano as my talent in the Miss America pageant. And far from last, my teacher taught me to be competitive, to enter contests. Wouldn't you agree that she is a rare teacher of the piano," Phyllis queried.

"I do owe the very beginnings of my piano career to my parents who never forced me to take lessons or to practice. They suggested, knowing their seven-year-old daughter might rebel if she had been forced to be a pianist."

13 Years Together

"It was at this tender age of seven that I began my lessons with Dr. Scionti. We continued together for 13 years, filled with music and the incomparable teachings of a virtuoso. You see, Dr. Scionti attained fame as a duo-pianist with her husband, the late Silvio Scionti."

"World famous Ivan Davis studied with Silvio Scionti and Monte Hill Davis is another internationally known pianist who studied with the Sciontis. So I'm in good company!"

"Scarcely after I had begun taking lessons, Dr. Scionti encouraged me to enter competitions such as a National Piano Guild contest. I memorized 10 pieces for that contest at age seven. And what's more, I loved doing it," she emphasized.

"I entered contests for several years although I didn't realize the discipline I was learning. I do recall vividly how pleased Dr. Scionti was that I enjoyed practicing and that I always had practiced my lessons. Then in the early 60s I won first place in International Recording Competition. The judging was held in New York and we sent records I had made. Lo and behold I won!"

"Dr. Scionti is a modest person but I'd like to say for the world to hear that I owe so much to her and I thank her for her understanding, her encouragement and of course, her teachings."

"I'm sure that little Phyllis George (the kid with the teeth missing in front) couldn't have known at the time that she was being taught discipline, competition, poise and stage presence . . . at the same time she was learning a love of music as well as how to play the piano. Piano teachers should have a day where those of us lucky enough to have learned from them can honor them properly. Thank you, Dr. Scionti. I declare today your day!"

"Today, I love all kinds of music. I enjoy listening as well as playing. And the piano given me at my homecoming will be a treasured possession always—one that's used daily. I hope I can encourage my children to study the piano. I hope I'll remember to suggest lessons as my parents did—not force them."

"And if you're a complaining young girl or boy, ready to come to me with your troubles about practicing the piano, my ear is tuned off. You don't get any sympathy from me. I will tell you (as I am sure your parents have) that you'll be glad some day that you learned to play the piano. Look at it this way, if you can't see more than a day ahead of you—you'll be the star at any party you attend. Someone always asks when there's a piano in sight, 'Can anyone play the piano?'"

"If you practice and practice and practice, you'll be able to say, as I do, 'Sure, I play the piano. What would you like to hear?'"

Phyllis George, the reigning Miss America, will relinquish her crown. One thing she will not leave behind her is her love and appreciation of music, a gift brought to her by her parents and Dr. Isabel Scionti.

Declaration of Love

NEW YORK — "I don't think a wedding service is the place for a couple to declare their philosophy," states the Rev. Chadbourne A. Spring of The Community Church of New York. "It is a place where they declare their love for each other and it is a place for celebration."

NEENAH — December is the month chosen for the wedding of Sandra Leah Barker and Daniel George

Wedding Week Hectic for Couple

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tricia Nixon and Edward Cox got their marriage license by mail four days before their wedding.

The license was delivered to the White House Tuesday after they had an application filed for them Friday at the District of Columbia Marriage License Bureau and paid $2.50 in fees. Their required blood tests were made by a White House physician.

Cox is due back in town today for the rest of the wedding week's activities. He ran into an unexpected news conference when he reported to the office of the U.S. Attorney in New York, where he has a $60 a week summer job that will start after the honeymoon.

The White House — amid painting, cleaning the gold chairs for 400 wedding guests and refurbishing the diplomatic reception room — put to rest questions about who's paying for the wedding.

Nixon is, but how much it's costing him won't be disclosed, says Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

Your Problems

Many Want to be Left Alone

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just caught up with your answer to "Masquerade," the homosexual who married first a lesbian, then a heterosexual woman. You said, "A woman who marries a homosexual is getting what she wants — which is mostly to be left alone."

You are wrong. Such a woman is a "vamp" in the old Theda Bara sense. The homosexual male is the ultimate challenge to her prowess as a female. She may appear passive and low-key, but it is only a pose. She is hard at work trying to break down his resistance and prove herself a superwoman.

If "Masquerade" and others like him are sufficiently bisexual, the vamp will succeed. He then becomes a bridegroom of the widow spider. If he is not sufficiently bisexual, he will escape. I know because I — Did It.

Dear Did: Thanks for a firsthand report. I can tell you, however, from other firsthand reports, that there are a variety of reasons why women marry homosexuals — for example: money, social position, companionship, or sheer panic at the thought of being an "unclaimed jewel." And almost every homosexual has encountered the "social-worker" type who tells herself, "He's sick, poor fellow, but I can make him well." Last but not least is the closet case who looks like a hot number but is actually terrified of sex and hates it.

Landers

She is the gal who wants a man — but she wants him to leave her alone.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Is this for real? I saw an item in our daily paper that said: "A child will not have hair darker than his darker parent. His hair will not be curlier than that of the parent with the curlier hair." Check with your experts. This raises some interesting questions. — A Daily Reader

Dear Daily: Here's what Prof. Joshua Lederberg of Stanford University said: "What, never? No, never. Well, hardly ever. Often that doctrine is mischievous. You should ask which hair you are going to compare — and at what age." So there you have it — straight from His Worship at Palo Alto... and quite a quote it is. Not every Nobel Prize-winning Geneticist can make his point by borrowing a line from Gilbert and Sullivan!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two years ago I married this man. Each of us was previously married for 20 years. My husband is really wonderful — except for one thing. He has not drawn up a new will nor has he changed some of the records which I feel should be changed. He finally altered one insurance policy last month after much prodding. His other policies must remain as they are because of the property settlement.

His ex-wife still carries a military dependent I.D. card which allows her to use the PX, commissary and military hospitals. Under these conditions would she be the recipient of the widow's pension or would I?

I work and help him with his children's college bills and the alimony clobber. I have no idea where I stand if he should die or be killed. He has four children I have two.

What's the next step for me? — Feeling Insecure

Dear Feeling: Talk to an estate lawyer so you can speak to your husband intelligently.

Since the military recognizes only one wife at a time it seems to me you are being denied privileges which are rightfully yours. You should insist that this little detail be straightened out at once.

Does 'Normal' Woman Iron?

BY ERMA BOMBECK

An ad in a Midwest newspaper read, WANTED: Woman to do ironing for housewife 10 years behind in everything. Must have strong courage and sense of humor. Phone —

Now there's a woman I could live next door to in perfect harmony. Iron "By appointment only." I learned long ago that if I ironed and hung three dresses in my daughter's closet, she would change three times during dinner.

The other day my son wanted me to iron his jeans for a class play. "Which leg faces the audience?" I asked with my iron poised in mid-air.

"Boy," he said, "you're sure not like Mrs. Breck."

I hadn't thought about Mrs. Breck in years. She was an antiseptic old broad who used to live two houses down from me. She had an annoying habit of putting her ironing board up on Tuesdays and putting it away again at the end of the day. (What can you expect from a woman who ironed belt buckles?)

One afternoon I dropped in on her as she was pressing the tongues in her son's tennis shoes.

"You know what you are, Mrs. Breck?" I asked. "A drudge."

"Oh, I enjoy ironing," she said.

"You keep talking like that and someone is going to put you in a home."

"What's so bad about ironing?" she grinned.

"No one does it," I snapped. "Did you ever see the women on soap operas iron? They're just normal. American housewives. But do you ever see them in front of an ironing board? No! They're out having abortions, committing murder, blackmailing their boss, undergoing surgery, having fun! If you weren't chained to this ironing board you, too, could be out doing all sorts of exciting things."

"Like what?" she chuckled, pressing the wrinkle out of a pair of sweat socks and folding them neatly.

"You could give Tupperware parties, learn to Scuba dive, learn hotel management while sitting under a hair dryer, have an affair with the Avon lady's unemployed brother-in-law, sing along with Jack LaLanne, collect antique barbed wire, take a course in Hebrew Flower Arranging, start chain letters... I don't know, woman, use your imagination!"

I read the newspaper ad again. It intrigued me so that I dialed the number and waited.

"Hello, Mrs. Breck speaking."

Son of a gun. It sure makes you feel good when you had a part in someone's success. doesn't it?

THE ACES ON BRIDGE

World Champions by IRA G. CORN JR. TEAM CAPTAIN

Question No. 1. You are South, no vulnerability, and hold:

What do you bid at this point?

Question No. 2. You are South, East-West vulnerable, and hold:

♣ 64

What do you bid at this point?

West North East South
1♥ Dbl 4♥ Pass
Pass Dbl Pass ?

Answer No. 1. Pass loses 170 points, since the opponents can make four hearts doubled. If you bid four spades, you pick up 320 points, going down two undoubled. The entire hand was:

NORTH 670
♠ AQ1043
♥ J4

WEST ♠ K72

SOUTH ♠ 8865

In the match, the Robert Lipsitz team played a four-heart contract in one room and made it against Aces Bob Goldman and Mike Lawrence. At the other table, against Aces Jim Jacoby and Bobby Wolff, S. H. Labins of West Hartford and Chuck Lamprey of White Plains, N. Y., saved at four spades on the bidding shown above.

The Lipsitz team gained 320 points or eight international match points in a close match against The Aces.

Answer No. 2. If you led a spade, the opponents ran off nine quick tricks and scored 600 points. A heart lead beats the contract one trick and gives 100 points to your side. The entire hand was:

NORTH 670
♠ 974
♥ A863

WEST ♠ K

SOUTH ♠ J108632
♥ KQJ
♦ 38
♣ 54

At one table, Ace Bob Hamman found the killing lead of the heart king to pick up 100 points. At the other table, Aces Jim Jacoby and Bobby Wolff bid the hand as shown above.

Jacoby's negative double, followed by his heart bid, steered South from the winning heart lead and gained The Aces a total of 700 points or 12 IMPs.

Brunch Recipes For Entertaining

cream. Recipe makes four servings.

SALMON ROYALE

1½ cups all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
3 tablespoons water

6 tablespoons butter
¼ pound mushrooms, chopped
1 small onion, minced
¼ teaspoon white pepper
2 tablespoons flour
1-pound can salmon
Milk

½ cup cream
1 egg yolk
In mixing bowl combine the 1½ cups flour and salt. With pastry blender or two knives cut in shortening until mixture looks like coarse meal. Sprinkle water over mixture, one tablespoon at a time, and mix lightly with a fork until all flour is moistened. With hands gather dough into a ball.

Roll out pastry on lightly floured board very thinly and cut into four 6-inch circles. Line four tart pans (4½ inches in diameter), turn edge of pastry inward ¼ inch and press firmly against rim of pan with tines of a fork. Prick pastry and place tart pans on baking sheet.

Roll out scraps of pastry and cut out four strips for "handles." Place handles on baking sheet. Bake all in preheated, 425 degree oven for 10 minutes. Remove handles and continue to bake tart shells for 2 to 3 minutes longer, or until golden. Cool.

In saucepan melt 3 tablespoons butter and in it saute mushrooms for 5 minutes. Spoon a little of the mushroom mixture into bottom of each shell. In same saucepan melt remaining butter and in it saute onion until transparent. Add pepper and stir in 2 tablespoons flour. Empty salmon liquid into a measuring cup and add milk to make a total of 1 cup liquid. Gradually stir liquid into flour mixture and cook over moderate heat, stirring, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Stir in cream. Combine egg yolk with a little of the hot sauce and stir into remaining sauce. Remove from heat and fold in salmon.

Fill tart shells with salmon mixture and insert a pastry handle in each. Bake in preheated, 400 degree oven for 5 minutes, or just until sauce begins to bubble.

Cook over moderately low heat until brown on both sides, turning once. (Crepes may be made ahead of time and kept wrapped in foil in the refrigerator for several days. They may also be kept on hand in the freezer.)

FOR SAUCE: combine sauce ingredients except brandy and bananas. second

Childhood Accidents Are Prevented by Example

This is the time of year when children climb trees, ride bicycles, roller-skate and go hiking. They spend more of their time in the street, backyard or in the playground, sliding, swinging, climbing and running — all activities involving a certain amount of hazard.

While parents can do little about some of the dangers their children come across in the course of day, they can, however, eliminate the causes of a number of preventable accidents, reports the Health Insurance Institute.

Early Training Helps
Teaching children good safety habits should begin when they are young. It might take a hunk of the parents' time, but it is vital. According to government statistics, some 19 million youngsters under 15 years of age have injurious accidents annually. Almost 15,000 die from accidents yearly.

Some of the safety rules are basic: You can teach your child how to cross the street when he is young by setting a good example yourself.

Always remind the youngster when you are about to cross the street, to look in both directions. Teach him to walk — not run. Instruct him never to run from behind parked cars and never to get out of an automobile on the street side. Caution him never to ride two on a bicycle built for one — and never, never to "hitch a ride" on the back of a truck or a bus. Teach him to put away his bicycle and toys in out-of-reach spots, where he or his playmates can't trip over them.

Eliminate Possible Hazards
If the child is under four, a temporary fence in the yard should be a prerequisite. This will keep him out of the street and its dangers; out of neighborhood backyard pools, out of reach of stray dogs, and from becoming lost and frightened. The same precaution should be applied to any area in which you might let him play — it should be fenced in to prevent accidents.

Discuss outdoor hazards calmly. You can over-emphasize the dangers of crossing streets or climbing trees, to the point where a youngster can become panicky and over-anxious. For example, as you and the child walk down the street, speak matter-of-factly about traffic lights, and looking both ways, when crossing at corners.

Here are some safety rules for a parent to follow:

When backing your car out of the driveway, always check to make sure that no child is playing or hiding there. Also watch for any potentially dangerous conditions in the yard and play areas.

Keep the garage door closed and make sure that tools or such potentially hazardous equipment as lawnmowers, saws, cans of paint, or poisonous sprays are stored safely away from children's reach.

Always remember to take the doors off discarded refrigerators to prevent youngsters from locking themselves in — still an all-too-frequent tragedy.

Outside clotheslines should be strung high so that children cannot run into them.

Teach your children not to taste unidentified plants, fruit, roots or wild mushrooms — which could turn out to be poisonous.

Remove nails, splinters and Miss Linda Bauman, a voting delegate of the Appleton High School - East (AHS-E) chapter of Future Homemakers of America (FHA), was elected vice president of the District 4 of the state FHA at Green Lake Wednesday. Miss Bauman was installed in a white dress ceremony.

Other delegates from the AHS-E chapter attending the convention are Miss Barbara Boldt, Miss Frances Renn and Miss Sarah Franzke. Mrs. Henry Renn, the chapter mother accompanied the girls.

This is the third year AHS-E has had a chapter of FHA.

rough edges from boxes or boards that children may play with indoors or out.

If your child is not old enough to spell his name or remember his address, place a slip of paper with his name, address and telephone number, if at all possible, in a pocket. If the child is over three, teach him to enunciate his full name clearly, should he get lost. Also, as soon as he is able, help him to memorize the address and telephone number.

While there are no vaccines to protect children against accidents, teaching good safety habits and observing safety rules can mean the difference between life and life-long injury or maybe even death.

Outstanding PBX Member Selected

Mrs. Sherry Quakenbush, outgoing president of the PBX (Private Board Exchange) Club of the Fox Cities, was named "Outstanding Club Member of the Year" when the group met Tuesday evening at the Columbus Club. The dinner event was planned locally in observance of the National PBX Telephone Operators Week June 6 through 12 as proclaimed by Gov. Patrick Lucey as well as by Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna, Little Chute, Oshkosh and Shawano mayors.

The selection of Mrs. Quakenbush was made by secret ballot when members met in May. Mrs. Stell Minsart, a representative of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., made the presentation of the traveling trophy.

Mrs. Quakenbush, a former PBX operator, now has taken a position as advertising assistant to R. L. Mayotte, manager of advertising and sales promotion of the paper division of Kimberly-Clark. In her new job, she no longer is qualified to hold an office in the PBX Club.

Installed as officers of the local unit were Mrs. Bee Masiak, president; Mrs. Marge Munger, vice president; Mrs. Lu Wuellner, secretary, and Miss Alma Renn, treasurer.

Invited to attend were employers of the operators as well as members of the seven sister chapters in Wisconsin. International President, Mrs. Carol Jean Hohl, Milwaukee, was present as were presidents of the Milwaukee and Green Bay clubs.

The PBX Club of the Fox Cities was organized in 1965 and its current membership of 65 hails from seven cities in the area. The primary purposes of the club are to raise the recognition status of the PBX operators in the business world, to promote and perform projects for the benefit of the community and to give the operators an opportunity to become acquainted with one another and to discuss problems associated with their careers.

Public Card Party

The Appleton Golden Age Club will have a public card party Tuesday at the clubhouse. Dessert and coffee will be served at 1:30 p.m.

Serving on the committee are Mmes. Harry Semrow, Wilma Cooper, Arthur Kippenhan, Ed Stapel, Emma Durdell and Marse Hertzfeld.

Mrs. Shirley Quakenbush, second from left, was recipient of the PBX Outstanding Club Member of the Year award which was presented to her by Mrs. Stell Minsart, second from right, of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. With them are Mrs. Bee Masiak, Kaukauna, new president of the Fox Cities club; R. L. Moyotte, Neenah, Mrs. Quakenbush's employer, and Mrs. Eugene Hohl, Milwaukee, international president of PBX clubs.

Big Weekend for State Historians June 17-19

Pulitzer Author John Toland to Speak, Paddlewheeler, Bus Trips at La Crosse

BY JINGO
History buffs, members of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, will have three days of history seminars, bus and river trips the weekend of June 17-19 in La Crosse.

The three-day meeting is the annual session of the state society that's open to anyone interested as well as members.

Meeting headquarters will be at the Holiday Inn at La Crosse. Author to Speak

Noted World War II historian, John Toland, a native of La Crosse, will be the principal speaker at the Society banquet Friday night, June 18. His latest book, "The Rising Sun," won the Pulitzer prize and was cited by the Overseas Press Club as the best book on foreign Affairs for 1970.

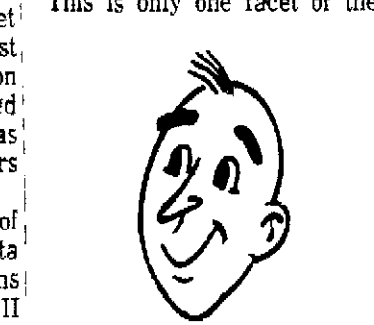

Toland, now a resident of Danbury, Conn., is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Williams College and is a World War II veteran. "The Rising Sun" covers the rise and fall of the Japanese Empire from 1936 through 1945; it represents extensive research of historic documents, extensive travel in the Orient and the interviewing of more than 400 persons.

Friday Busy Day

Toland's topic at the banquet will be "Research Adventures of a War Historian." SWSW President E. David Cronin, will preside at this meeting.

'Five High' Champs on 5 Tonight

BY TV SCOUT

8:30 p.m. Channel 5 — "Five High." Channel 5's quiz bowl series will be the championship match between Pulaski High School and Iron Mountain High School (Lyon Mountain, Mich.). The program, which has been going on all year on WFBV-TV, will be telecast live from the studios in Green Bay. The two scholastic teams were chosen from — all the undefeated high school teams in northeastern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Selection was based on point totals and a playoff game.

Students from Pulaski in the competition are Gary Ryan, Sue Boyden, Gary Ulmer, Janice Pomprowitz and Randy Brudnick. Iron Mountain team members are Chuck Miller, James Berg, Robert Aho, Wendy Russman and Rachel Solom.

6:30-7:30 Channels 11-9 — The Alias Smith and Jones boys get on the wrong train in their haste to leave town. The train has been taken over by detectives guarding a gold shipment, and they expect Smith and Jones (Pete Duel and Ben Murphy) to try and rob the train. (R)

6:30-7:30 Channel 5 — The Flip Wilson Show is good, with one extra-good skit — Flip as detective Hemlock Jones. Johnny Brown, his roundly crammed into tweed knickers, is his aide, Dolson. They work on the case of aged John Byner, whose young wife, Connie Stevens, tries to hang him, poison him, smother him and shoot him with a bow and arrow (R)

7:30 Channels 2-7 — Lance r's offering tonight is from two seasons back. It is a trifle script, saved by the characterization of a badman boss, played by Joe Campanella. Murdock Lancer (Andrew Duggan) is the featured regular, chasing some stage coach bandits to a border town controlled by Campanella. When he arrives, the boss baddie has him jailed and Murdock has to use all his wiles to save his hide. (R)

7:30-8:30 Channel 5 — Mark Ironside's young law student, digs up an old case for a class and the convicted man's sister uses his research to reopen the case. This embarrasses Ed (Don Galloway), because he was involved in the original investigation. It's a good story with fine young actors — New York model Kay Peters is the sister, James Wainwright the convicted man, Robert F. Lyons another suspect and Neenah's Sallie Shockley the suspect's fiancée. (R)

8:30-9:30 Channels 11-9 — TV producers have found that setting a story in a "swinging singles" apartment lets them shoot pretty girls in bikinis around the pool. Dan August is at one of these spots, probing the murder of a swinger who was involved with a married woman and a sweet young thing. (R)

Copyright Dispute Bars Rock Opera

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Four weekend performances of the rock opera "Jesus Christ Superstar" have been canceled because of a copyright dispute, the St. Louis Symphony Society announced Tuesday night.

Symphony manager James N. Cain said it was hoped the dispute can be resolved so the opera can be performed as scheduled at the Mississippi River Festival Aug. 5.

Lawyer for the English authors, Lloyd Weber and Tim Rice, wrote the symphony society advising it could be sued for producing the opera without special permission.

James Stewart is shown in contrast in these two pictures from his first and current movie. Above, he plays the fugitive in "Rose Marie" with singer-star Nelson Eddy. The lower picture shows him in the role of a released convict in "Fool's Parade." With him is actor George Kennedy in the role of a prison guard.

Dick Haymes 'Flat Broke,' Court Told

LONDON (AP) — Singer Dick Haymes, who earned and spent a million dollars before going bankrupt in 1960, says he's so broke now he can't afford to go to bankruptcy court for a hearing on new debts.

Haymes, 52, was due in court at Kingston in Surrey Tuesday on a credit petition seeking payment of a 1966 loan of $3,600. An assistant official receiver told the court, however, that Haymes said he was doing a three-week engagement in Madrid and could not afford the $178 fare for a one-day return flight from Spain.

"He is treating this very lightly," the judge said, adding that he was "tempted to order the singer's arrest." Another hearing was scheduled for July 13. Haymes gave the court a statement listing $97,504 in liabilities and $490 in assets.

Angela Davis Bigotry Victim, Says Mrs. King

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The widow of Martin Luther King Jr. said Monday she supports efforts to secure bail and a "fair defense" for black militant Angela Davis, who is charged in connection with a shootout at the San Rafael, Calif., courthouse which left a judge and three other persons dead.

Miss Davis "has been denied bail, described as a terrorist though she has no criminal record and an exemplary record as a scholar," Coretta Scott King said in a statement. "It is difficult to reject the conclusion that the conduct toward her is a consequence of triple bigotry. Angela Davis is black, she is a woman militant and finally, an acknowledged Communist."

Mrs. King said she has "clear differences politically with Miss Davis."

Young Hobby Club Discarded Beach Ball Eye-Catching Decoration

BY CAPPY DICK
A small, discarded beach ball can be turned into a beautiful novelty with the help of some artificial flowers, a large paper cup and glue.

Artificial Blossoms
Becoming a ball of flowers, it can be placed on a table or desk as a colorful eye-catching decoration.
The ball should be about seven inches in diameter. Gather a variety of small artificial flowers that are flat, such as daisies. Carefully remove their stems; none of a stem should remain as it will prevent the flower from being glued snugly against the surface of the ball.

You must accumulate enough blossoms to cover almost the entire surface of the ball, the exception being one area that will become the bottom. This area will rest in a section of a paper cup which will serve as a base.
Select a big paper cup and cut a portion two or three inches wide from around the top. This will form a collar for the ball. Color this base green with poster paint.
Assemble the base and the ball as shown in the illustration above, completing the project.

Malaria Contracted Overseas Can Recur

BY G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son had malaria twice in the service. Now that he is coming home I would like to know what effects it may have on his general health. Can it recur? What precautions must be taken? I hear so many stories, and have even been told to try to persuade him not to marry as he will never be healthy. — E.M.

Dr. Thosteson

What dummy peddled you that story about telling him not to marry? Forget it.

But don't forget the malaria. It can flare up periodically, with episodes of chills, fever, aching muscles, headaches. Your son may be one of the bright young fellows who pays attention to what he is told; then again he might be so intent on getting back to civilian life that he forgets the instructions given to him in the service, or on his way back. Anyway, if your son has any recurrence of his malaria, a blood smear will identify the type of malaria — there are varying forms of it, and it is necessary to know which kind it is.

Treatment is not a do-it-yourself affair. While quinine used to be the classic treatment for malaria, we can do considerably better now, using different drugs, singly or in combination, to suit the variety of malaria involved. With adequate treatment, there is no reason to fear any damaging after-effects.

By adequate treatment, I mean, usually, a course of treatment spread over about two weeks. When troops were returning from Korea, the trip was long enough to have them take a supervised course of treatment of 14 days. (Treatment in the field often could not be sufficient.)

But with troops coming home by air, treatment can't be supervised for that long. Men needing anti-malarial drugs are given an eight-day supply, but there's no guarantee that they will take them. You know how young people sometimes are.

On the other hand, you may find that your son, having had two attacks, will have the good sense to take the prescribed treatment, and also know what to do if he has a flare-up.

But if he has an attack of chills and fever, see your doctor promptly and tell him your son had malaria overseas.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I diagnosed my shoulder several months ago and it is still an effort for me to raise my arm as high as my face. My doctor said it did not stay in the socket properly on a football players, and they go count of a stretched or torn ligament and the only cure would be surgery. How successful is this? — L.S.

Quite reliably successful. This type of surgery is done frequently on athletes, particularly in the shoulder. The shoulder can slip out of place with the simplest of arm movements, once the original injury has occurred.

There apparently are about 100 different varieties of common cold germs, give or take a dozen or so, and all of them are contagious.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I read with interest your column about "no germs, no colds." How many kinds of colds are there? Are most of them contagious? Is there such a thing as a nervous cough besides a common cold? — A.E.A.

There apparently are about 100 different varieties of common cold germs, give or take a dozen or so, and all of them are contagious.

OKs Contract With 49ers

OSHKOSH, Wis (AP) — Ron Cardo, whose 2,706 yards is a career rushing record at Oshkosh State University, signed a contract at undisclosed terms Wednesday night with the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League.

Cardo, the 49ers' 10th round draft choice, was signed by former San Francisco great Joe Perry, who was in the Fox River Valley for Tuesday night's 1,000 Yard Club Foundation dinner at Menasha.

Cardo is a former Milwaukee Cathedral prep star.

tonight, Friday and Saturday. Three Appleton hurlers gave up seven hits, but some loose fielding in the third inning when the Bees sent nine men to the plate and scored all five runs proved costly.

Burlington used three walks, three hits including a double by Keith Lieppman, two passed balls and a Foxes' error to score the five runs.

Appleton starter and loser Mike Atkinson was lifted after three frames and Gary Cortopassi and Gene Duhe closed the door on the Bees the rest of the way.

The Bees' Myers, who brought the league's leading earned run average (0.22) into the game, lasted four innings and faced one man in the fifth before wildness got the best of him and he was lifted.

Myers displayed a good fast ball, but managed only three strikeouts against the Foxes, another doubleheader, the third straight for the Foxes.

In the first game, Abbott held the spotlight for the Bees as he kept the Foxes in check after giving up an unearned run in the first inning. Appleton had just three base runners after the first frame and failed to get a runner past second base.

Abbott set eight Foxes down on strikes and walked only one.

Two Rivers Trips Oneida in MAA Baseball Meet

MENASHA — Waupaca erupted for six runs in the top of the 10th inning to defeat Manitowoc, 7-1, in a first round game in the Menasha Athletic Association Baseball Tournament Wednesday night.

Two Rivers used a 5-run first inning cushion to defeat Oneida, 7-5, in the night's other contest.

Waupaca's massive outbreak preserved a fine pitching effort for righthander John Holly, who struck out 21 hitters, allowed only five hits and walked but three.

Holly held the losers hitless through the final five innings. He also started 'Paca's rally in the 10th with a single.

Tom Neubert pitched the first eight innings for Manty and retired the last 12 batters in a row and was in trouble only

Cash Belts Homer

Cain, Tigers Stop Brewers on 4 Hits For 3-0 Shutout

By LARRY PALADINO Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Les Cain says his arm "is not as strong as it should be."

It would be difficult to convince the Milwaukee Brewers of that, or the 12,000 persons at Tiger Stadium Wednesday night who witnessed the formerly sore-shouldered southpaw hurl Detroit to a 3-0 victory, with Norm Cash blasting a three-run homer in the first inning.

It was Cain's first complete game shutout in his major league career, a four-hitter, which carried the Tigers to their loftiest height above .500 since opening day—five games at 30-25 .545. The loss was the sixth consecutive for the Brewers.

Despite the second straight triumph Detroit remain third in the American League East 4½ games behind leader Baltimore, which nipped Minnesota 2-1 in 10 innings.

Lockwood Hurls Righthander Joe Coleman, 5-2, was scheduled to pitch tonight's final game of the three-game Milwaukee set, with righty Skip Lockwood, 3-4, expected to be on the mound for the Brewers. They are last in the West, 14½ games behind leader Oakland.

Ironically, exactly one year previous Cain beat the Brewers 8-3 as Willie Horton slammed three homers in Detroit.

"The most important thing is not the shutout but that I went nine innings," said Cain, who completed his first game of the year in five starts since returning from the Toledo farm club only 2½ weeks ago after recovering from a sore shoulder.

"I still feel my arm is not as strong as it should be—but it's getting there," the 23-year-old hurler smiled in the clubhouse.

He has had a sore throat for the past three days but he said it was not serious. However Cain now has another ailment—a modest red bump on his forehead suffered in the seventh inning when Ellie Rodriguez' pouncer skipped off Cain's glove, then forehead, for a single.

"I just felt like crawling under the mound I was so embarrassed," the soft-spoken pitcher nodded. "I guess I was getting too cocky and thought I had it."

Cash's homer was his 12th, tying him for the American League lead and upping his RBI total to 29 which equals Horton for the club lead. It followed Al Kaline's single and Horton's hit by a pitch from starter Lew Krausse, now 2-8.

Krausse and Ken Sanders gave up 11 more hits the last seven innings but Detroit stranded 12 baserunners to be shut-out after the first.

Sheboygan Duo Defends Title

NEW Best-Ball Test Set

Fox Cities golfers will try to get back into the Northeastern Wisconsin Golf Association best-ball tournament throne room this weekend at Antigo Bass Lake.

Green Bay and Sheboygan golfers have won the crown for the last three years. In 1970, Tom Beaumont and Tom Testwaide, of Sheboygan Pine Hills, won the title with a 1-up finals victory over Fond du Lac South Hills' Wally Tack and "Fuzzy" Tighe.

Ninety teams will compete Friday in the qualifying round on the 18-hole layout. The 180 golfers constitute one of the largest amateur tourney fields in the state.

The teams with the 16 best scores Friday will qualify for the championship flight in Saturday's and Sunday's match play. Five other flights will be set up, with 16 teams each in A, B and C and eight teams in D and E. Only 10 of the teams will drop out after the qualifying day.

Six former championship duos—including Appleton's Don Jabas and Don Strutz, winners of a number of titles—will compete.

George Doverspike, of the host club, is tournament chairman.

Giants Drop 7th in 8 Games, Expos' Renko Fires 1-Hitter

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

"Fun in '71" is manager Charlie Fox's slogan for the San Francisco Giants but he's having trouble dispelling the "June swoon" label.

The Giants managed only one hit—Dick Dietz' second-inning bouncing single up the middle—off Montreal's Steve Renko Wednesday night and went down to a 4-0 defeat, their seventh in eight games this month.

In little more than a week, their lead over Los Angeles in the National League West has been trimmed from 10½ to seven games.

Asked if the Giants were psyched by the "June swoon" tag, Fox snapped:

No Psychologist
"I'm no (censored) psychologist. Did you guys ever consider that your man just threw a one-hitter out there? Don't you guys want to give him any credit? That's all I'm going to tell you."

Elsewhere, Philadelphia trounced Los Angeles 9-4, the New York Mets rallied to beat San Diego 4-2, Atlanta whipped St. Louis 8-3, the Chicago Cubs shaded Pittsburgh 3-1 and Cincinnati edged Houston 2-1.

The Expos didn't get a hit off Gaylord Perry until Bob Bailey beat out a bunt to open the fifth. With two out, Renko doubled him home. Ron Hunt's double, Rusty Staub's single and an infield out made it 2-0 in the sixth and the Expos kayoed Perry in the seventh, scoring their final two runs on Staub's double.

Don't Gain Ground
The Dodgers, however, failed to gain on the Giants when home runs by Deron Johnson, Byron Browne and Don Money helped Philadelphia's Ken Reymond to his first major league victory, although he needed eighth-inning help from Woodie Fryman.

Johnson's three-run blast capped a four-run outburst against Claude Osteen in the first inning and Browne hit a two-run shot in the third. Money belted a solo homer in the seventh. Steve Garvey homered for the Dodgers.

The Mets, frustrated by Tom Phoebus for seven innings despite numerous scoring chances, finally erupted against San Diego reliever Al Severinsen in the eighth, wiping out a 2-0 deficit, including Nate Colbert's 12th homer off Tom Seaver.

Jerry Grote's single and triples by Don Hahn and Bud Harrelson tied the score and Ken Singleton's pinch single put the Mets in front. The final run scored on a bases-loaded walk.

Mets in 1st
The victory enabled the Mets to move back into first place in the NL East, 12 percentage points ahead of St. Louis. The Cards fell before a six-run Atlanta uprising in the fifth inning, featuring a two-run single by Zoilo Versalles and Hank Aaron's game-tying double.

St. Louis reliever Frank Linzy and first baseman Bob Burda collided at full speed going after a ground ball in the sixth and both were taken to a hospital, where they were treated and released.

Yesterday's Stars
PITCHING — Steve Renko, Expos, allowed just a second-inning single by Dick Dietz to home runs by Deron Johnson, Byron Browne and Don Money of the San Francisco Giants.

Ferguson Jenkins posted his 10th victory as the Cubs downed the Pirates, with Brock Davis driving in a pair of runs with a triple and single. Willie Stargell's 20th home run accounted for the only run off Jenkins.

Johnny Bench's 15th home run, but his first since May 25, broke a tie in the eighth inning and lifted the Reds over the Astros.

Jerris Leonard Is Naive

On his recent visit to Wisconsin, Jerris Leonard, head of the civil rights division of the U.S. Department of Justice, and once prominent in Wisconsin politics, commented that no one but those who have done wrong need fear what sometimes appear to be the invasion of privacy in Federal Bureau of Investigation probes of citizens. Something of the same thing has been charged on the part of Wisconsin Attorney General Robert Warren's office.

If this statement is interpreted strictly according to prosecution in the courts, Mr. Leonard would appear to be quite right. No one who lives an exemplary life and conducts himself completely within the laws and according to the high level of ethics proclaimed by all religious denominations should be concerned if there are wiretaps on his phone, dossiers on his friends, relatives, drinking, smoking, business and sex habits, home life, church attendance, dress, or hair length. Moreover, those who do not follow what are considered socially accepted modes of behavior should not expect approval from their neighbors even though the neighbors' opinions may be wrong. Those who actively promote unpopular causes should, in the words of former President Harry Truman, get out of the kitchen if they can't stand the heat.

Nevertheless the extent of some often rather silly invasions of privacy, the signs of deviant behavior that seems important to the FBI and perhaps to Attorney General John Mitchell, and what certainly have been efforts at harassment, make Mr. Leonard's pooh-poohing of the dangers of surveillance not quite accurate in a nation which proclaims personal liberty as a major advantage.

The article by Bernard Gavzer of The Associated Press in last Sunday's Post-Crescent documented some of these disturbing practices. Whether the concern among FBI officials about the Berrigan brothers and their friends is based on belief in a real threat of revolution or something of a prejudiced paranoia, it has not yet been upheld in the courts and the original charges, allegedly brought because of statements made by J. Edgar Hoover, and the subsequent put-up-or-shut-up demands, have been reduced and even completely dropped against the Rev. Daniel Berrigan. The surveillance by the United States Army of leading political figures in Illinois, including Senator Adlai Stevenson III, has further raised doubts about the intelligence and reason behind such probes.

In these days of rising unemployment, some people perhaps cannot be too harshly blamed if they have withdrawn from controversial causes because of adverse public opinion or governmental frowns. An individual in a sensitive government position may need to have a security clearance so that even his strictly private affairs cannot be used for blackmail. But is it any business of the Army, the FBI or of any other government agency, whether a private citizen attends church, gets drunk, has homosexual tendencies, buys Playboy or goes to X rated movies?

Mr. Leonard is naive indeed if he actually believes that most Americans approve of such investigations into their private lives.

Our Involvement in Laos

The Geneva Accords, subscribed to by both the United States and the North Vietnamese, proclaimed the neutrality of Laos and pledged that no foreign troops would operate there.

Subsequently the United States pulled out its troops, which at the time were few, and maintained only a handful of advisors to the troika government of a conservative, a true neutralist and a Communist. The 3-way government collapsed with the withdrawal of Communist support. An undeclared but small-scale war has been going on ever since in the northern areas.

It has been no secret that North Vietnamese troops have been active in Laos in support of the home grown Communist Pathet Lao. The North Vietnamese have consistently denied that their troops are there just as they have refused to acknowledge that any troops from Hanoi are active in South Vietnam. But the United States, obviously in retaliation, is also in the same sort of situation. According to continued reports, Americans under the authority of the Central Intelligence Agency, have been active in Northern Laos, there has been extensive bombing of Laotian villages and defoliation of crop lands and jungles, and the part of the Ho Chi Minh trail that runs through Laos has been under constant aerial attack by the United States. But except for the raids on the trail and some of the American support to South Vietnamese forces during the invasion of Laos some months ago, there has been no confirmation in Washington that Americans are in any way involved militarily.

Fairly good arguments can be offered why our participation in Laos should not be openly acknowledged. The South Vietnamese may be able to bargain more effectively for a peace settlement and Hanoi, while publicly maintaining the myth of its own restraint, could lambast the United States for violation of the neutrality agreement.

But at least until recently when the Senate held hearings with members of the Administration on the Laotian problem, the United States Congress also has been kept in the dark. Since it has the responsibility of appropriating funds for the conduct of any military activity as well as for all foreign aid, Congress should know some of the details and extent of our assistance to Laos. Unlike Communist regimes — and other dictatorial ones — most of American world-wide activities must be conducted in public. Anything else is anathema to democracy and representative government and negates any pretense of voter control of the government or governmental responsibility to the voters.

Recently it also has been reported that the United States is encouraging more Thai troops to become active in the Laotian conflict. This is disturbing for two reasons. The 1970 Defense Appropriations Act specifically prohibits our paying mercenaries in Southeast Asia except to help guarantee a safe and orderly withdrawal of American troops from the area. Perhaps paying the costs of Thai troops can be justified under this reservation. But once again it is a doubtful philosophy for the United States to pay Asians to kill each other. That is essentially what the Vietnamization program is, however popular it may be to say in the United States it is to hurry the withdrawal of American ground combat troops. So far there seems to have been little in depth probe in Washington to determine whether such encouragement to continue the war is really in the interests of the people in Southeast Asia or merely a means of getting the United States off the hook without too much embarrassment.

A Word Edgewise—

Minority Scholarship Quotas Become Problem for Colleges

BY JOHN P. ROCHE

It is perhaps understating the case to say that financially this has been a bad year for private colleges and universities. (It is true also of public institutions, but to a lesser degree.) Alas! It is also a year in which a number of I.O.U.s are being cashed, in which a number of commitments have to be met, notably in the area of minority admissions. As noted here before, a college or university is one of the softest targets in town, and over the last two or three years black militants have successfully obtained pledges from schools guaranteeing that 10 per cent of each entering class will be Negroes.

While one can object (as I do) to the notion of racial quotas, in general everything is to be said for insuring that talented young people can obtain a college education, whether they are red, black, green, pink or polka dot. The joker in the deck is that minority applicants are overwhelmingly poor and it now costs about $5,000 a year to attend a private institution of higher learning. To offer a talented Negro or Chicano $1,000 in scholarship aid is in most cases simply a bad joke; he needs full subsidization.

Hypothetical Case

Let us take as a hypothetical case a freshmen class of 500. The college president has a standing agreement to admit 10 per cent from minority backgrounds, that is, 50 students. The college has budgeted the seemingly generous figure of $350,000 for freshmen financial aid, but suddenly realizes that if all 50 minority applicants are given the assistance they need, $300,000 of the total will be pre-empted, leaving $50,000 to cover the needs of the other 450 freshmen. One easy solution is to ban poor whites, but for personal as well as ideological reasons that strikes me as outrageous.

... personal since as a poor white kid, I got a college education only because

Hofstra gave me full tuition for four years. ... ideological because it would create student bodies radically divided between white rich and black poor; you would literally have a stark class-race struggle on campus.

The alternative for a college caught in this bind is simply to lay the facts on the table and make it clear that, while it will do its best to help poor students from minority backgrounds, it can not do so at the expense of poor students from the majority, that (to return to the case set out before) six-sevenths of the scholarship funds can not go to one-tenth of the student body.

Threats to Burn

This has the virtue of honesty and true egalitarianism, but it will, of course, bring out the black militants threatening to burn the place down. A little vigorous mau-mauing usually brings the administration to its knees, and somewhere in the background the faculty will be passing a resolution urging that more money be put in the kitty (though not volunteering any from their salaries).

What goes largely unnoticed — partly because student papers are controlled by New Left types whose masochistic fawning towards Negroes has to be seen to be believed — is the tremendous groundswell of resentment among the white young people against this "discrimination in reverse."

For this they are accused of "white racism," even though they had no hand in injecting "race" into the picture and few of them hail from plantations. From the viewpoint of one who has been fighting for equality for a quarter of a century the terrible thing is that before this is over the young whites may well be racists. Universities that blandly adopt the quota system are unwittingly creating a precondition for racial warfare on the campus. (King Features Syndicate)

New Legislators Learning You Can't Satisfy Everyone

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — As the legislature in succeeding weeks — and perhaps months — wrestles anxiously with the task of achieving a compromise state budget, members of its usually large freshman class will come to grips with the basic problem of the politician in these times.

Wyngaard

It is to find an acceptable accommodation between the relentless demands of the governmental bureaucracy and public service beneficiary groups for ever-increasing shares of the incomes of the people, and the aggressive outcries of others about the painful increases in the amount of earnings, profits and capital going to the tax collector.

A seasoned politician, once a member of the legislature and now retired, strolled through the Capitol the other day and after appraising the temper of the legislature remarked:

"It is a question of establishing priorities."

Offers No Solution

It is, indeed, but to assert the problem is not to offer a solution.

There are legislators who feel themselves obliged to special interest groups with respect to public benefits in money or services. There are more of such implicit commitments to the beneficiaries of government as distinguished from the tax supporters of government among Democrats than among rival Republicans.

Indeed, here is what is perhaps the only truly reliable and reasonably constant test of the distinction between a convinced Democrat and a convinced Republican.

There was a time, and it is easier to recognize it in retrospect, when governors and legislatures could with comparative ease meet the genuine expectations of a majority of their constituents with respect to state benefits, services, and protections.

Opinions will differ. But if that time has not yet ended, it is obviously approaching. Today men in public office must choose. They must measure the exigency of a health service appropriation increase against education, a natural resources tax investment effort against transportation, economic regulatory activities as against direct subsidies of the unfortunate, in fact, each of them against all the others.

Cannot Comply Literally

Here is the dilemma for Gov. Lucey and the Democrats who are now responsible for state affairs. They are "liberals" in the definitions of the day. They represent a supporting constituency that responded to their liberal postures on spending and taxation. Now they confront the challenge of performance.

They realize with some consternation that they cannot comply literally with the campaign assumptions about what they could do, or even propose, or with the image of their purposes and their mandate in the minds of their supporters at the polls.

Gov. Lucey with his usual skill has found a tag line for his compromises under the force of brute necessity. His is an "austerity" budget. Yet the "austerity" embraces a boost in spending for two years of $400 million, or about 25 per cent.

What he is saying is that he cannot deliver all that is expected or all that he would prefer to do without risking repudiation of those who must pay the bills.

Others Faced Problem

He is in a bind. But it is not essentially different than the dilemma of immediate predecessors. Only once in the last decade has a state administration managed to avoid raising taxes, and then Gov. Knowles, Republican, was accused by skeptical Democrats of doctoring the books.

One of Gov. Lucey's task forces has suggested higher university tuition as a partial alternative to higher general taxation — with provision for assistance to the truly needy. Perhaps it was not a happy suggestion. But it is illuminating. University students tend to come from upper middle class families. Will the state indefinitely expand enrollments, at steadily rising per student costs, when it is already taxing the clothing of the working mother to raise the mountains of revenue required?

Thoughts at Large Offered by Harris

When someone says to us, "You're entitled to your opinion," we get the uneasy feeling that we wouldn't be if he had his way about it.

Concern over the moral fiber of our nation is no new thing; before the United States was a decade old, Thomas Jefferson wrote, "I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just."

It is not in "dogma" that danger lies, but in the set of mind that makes certainty more appealing than doubt.

If we were all nudists together, people would start decorating their navels in order to achieve a sense of social superiority.

Speaking of clothes, the basic and ineradicable conflict in women's dress was best expressed by Ogden Nash, when he wrote: "A woman wants to be dressed exactly like everybody else, but she gets pretty upset if she sees anybody else dressed exactly like her."

The reason that hatred is an inferior emotion to love is not merely moral, but psychological — in that hatred aims at annihilating the object, and thus perpetuates its reason for being.

The paradox of "health" is that those who make it a prime goal in life (instead of the by-product of an active existence), become morbidly infatuated at the shrine of health, and waste away in its service.

Mankind is continually betrayed, because the many seek pleasure, and the few seek power by offering tawdry pleasures in return for being unmolested in the exercise of power.

Men may see more clearly than women, but not as deeply; men are better at seeing how to get from where they are to where they want to be, but defective in comprehending what it will be like when they get there.

If adults didn't always feel they had to wear armor, youth wouldn't always be looking for the chinks in it.

Love affairs end in "friendship" only where neither of the parties was very much in love, but where each was using the other as a substitute for the real thing.

Increased Social Security Checks Arrived This Month

Social Security checks delivered the past week to mil- children in the United States are higher than the monthly and amounts they have been receiving.

Frank M. Donnack, Social Security manager in Appleton, said the checks covering benefit payments for the month of May include the general 10 per cent increase in benefits signed into law by President Nixon on March 17.

The payments are retroactive to Jan. 1. Separate checks, scheduled to reach Social Security beneficiaries on June 22, will cover the amount of the increases for the retroactive months of January through April.

Nationally, the new monthly benefit rate totals $2.9 billion, paid to 26.2 million beneficiaries.

The average monthly benefit for a retired worker goes up from $114 to about $126; for a retired couple, $199 to about $219. A widowed mother with two children will receive an average Social Security benefit of about $324, up from $295. For a disabled worker with a wife and one or more children, the new average monthly payments that are made to certain individuals age 72 and over who are not insured for regular Social Security cash benefits will be increased by 5 per cent, from $46 to $48.30 for an individual, and from $69 to $72.50 for a couple.

Teacher Salary Talks $25,000 Apart

BY FERN SMITH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA — There is growing concern on the part of a number of residents in the Waupaca Joint School District about the progress of teachers contract negotiations.

Exactly where do these negotiations for 1971-72 contracts stand at the moment?

Laurie Anderson, member of the board's negotiating team, reported Tuesday that the board and the Waupaca Educational Association, sole bargainers for the teachers, are now $25,000 apart in the total salary package increase.

The two negotiating teams are

Anderson and John Gusmer, for the board of education, and Dan Hartfiel and George Lorenz representing the WEA, met June 9. There is no report yet from that meeting, which was the 13th bargaining session.

When negotiations began on Feb. 18, the public was assured that joint releases would be made at the close of each session to the news media. These releases have been few, limited almost entirely to reports at the regular monthly board of education meetings, and these have been sketchy and rudimentary.

What happened? The public wants to know about the progress of negotiations, although there has been no public demand that negotiations be open. Perhaps it is time that that demand be made.

Does the public not have a right to know, fully, about the proposals, demands and counter proposals? Many taxpayers believe that they do.

Still Firm?

The public is interested in knowing whether or not the board of education is still standing firm on its statement of philosophy made when negotiations began:

— That it was opposed to granting salary increases automatically and without receiving a corresponding increase in efficiency and output.

— That it would exceed increments called for in the schedule only for superior teaching service.

— That it would extend the teaching contract to 190 days, with a minimum of 180 teaching days, and set the teaching week at 40 hours.

— That extra curricular pay, substitute teachers' salaries and insurance benefits would not be increased for 1971-72.

— That it proposed to change the 4 per cent index factor, which has been accumulative, to a flat increment of $300 per year.

COG Shuns Merger, Woos Two Counties

BY ARLEN BOARDMAN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — Fox Valley Council of Governments delegates Wednesday labeled a proposed merger as another planning agency's attempt to absorb COG and agreed to invite Winnebago and Outagamie counties to join COG.

They decided on the action after the COG legal counsel told them that under the current state law, Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission couldn't participate in a merger with COG but that counties could join COG as soon as they quit Northeastern.

A special committee was named to prepare a skeleton structure for a new planning organization including at least two counties.

The arrangement will be discussed informally with certain

Winnebago supervisors, and a special Winnebago County Board meeting will be sought later this month. Outagamie County Board supervisors also apparently will be contacted.

Legal Problems

COG delegates decided on the aggressive moves after learning of the legal roadblocks of a merger.

Oshkosh City Council President Bryon Murken suggested the entanglements had been understood long ago by merger promoters, in Northeastern but in such a group if he's in it. He apparently was referring to Calumet and Fond du Lac counties.

Laurel Heaney, Town of Neenah delegate, said it was time local officials stood up to Bubolz. "Gordon Bubolz has given us one hell of a lot of problems," he said, noting that this interference should be eliminated.

Unhappy About News

Bubolz said this morning he was unhappy to learn COG had ended merger chances before the Northeastern governing board had a chance to consider it. He and Kaukauna Mayor Gilbert Anderson, COG chairman, had worked out merger principles last week.

Bubolz made no comment on attacks on himself but said he would contact Anderson to learn what had happened.

COG delegates who discussed the merger were severe in their criticism and adamant about working out an alternative. However, Ira Livingston, Town of Grand Chute chairman, said he doubted whether a new arrangement could be effective for Jan. 1, 1972, and also urged more merger talks at the outset of the meeting.

Littlefield said Northeastern and COG are organized under different state statutes, and while counties could join COG, with arrangements having to be made for financial obligations, if the municipality-run COG was to merge with Northeastern, the municipalities would lose their representation, except through the county board.

Deadline to Resign

The rush for county board action to get out of Northeastern comes because the counties must vote to get out by June 30 of the year before they wish to get out. Under this requirement, they must resign this month or they are committed to the organization through 1972.

Meanwhile, there is a push to form a new planning organization for the tri-county area to come in line with federal and state wishes by Jan. 1, 1972. The alternative to a new agency might be continued existence of the two in Winnebago and Outagamie.

Murken was named to head the COG committee to come up with a structure for a new organization, and he and Heaney and Hauser agreed to contact county supervisors in their areas to appraise them of the moves. Edward Spierings, Little Chute village president, said he would make similar moves in Outagamie.

Spierings introduced a motion this week for Outagamie to get out of Northeastern to allow a merger, but action was delayed on it until June 22 at a special meeting.

Littlefield suggested that for setting up a new organization the group should first decide which statute it wanted to organize under. Then, he said, decide on the effective date of organization, who will be members, the boundaries, the official representatives and the financing.

Murken said he felt that COG should try to solve the problem since the counties hadn't taken the lead. Named with him to the special committee were Spierings, Menasha Mayor James Adams, Heaney and Hauser.

Clintonville Board, Teachers Still Far From Agreement

CLINTONVILLE — After 17 negotiation sessions, the Clintonville Education Association bargaining unit will authorize, (CEA) and the board of education have not reached agreement in a number of areas on the master agreement for the 1971-72 school year.

The CEA negotiating committee has said that it feels an impasse should be declared in negotiations and a mediator should be invited to attempt to reconcile the parties.

The CEA and board remain in disagreement on 21 issues regarding rights of management, grievances and arbitration, salary schedule and other compensation, leave policies, pay days, school calendar, and fringe benefits.

No-Strike Clause

The board met June 8 and reaffirmed its position on a no-strike, no-sanction clause as an important issue of the agreement. The board is asking that the CEA agree that neither it nor any of the employees in the Clintonville Education Association bargaining unit will authorize, condone, assist or support any strike.

The CEA contends that it cannot give up its members' constitutional rights to support a strike even though the teachers' may not be actively involved.

Another unresolved area is that of curriculum development. The present contract requires a total of 80 hours every five years without compensation to work on improvements and changes in curriculum.

The board maintains that this is important for upgrading classroom techniques and revisions, while the CEA says that this is a continuous process by every teacher and that the idea that a certain number of hours should be logged changes the improvements into merely a paperwork chore.

First Step is Taken Toward Waupaca Sanitary District

WAUPACA — A petition to public welfare will be promoted to the property owners and they to form a sanitary district, to district and the property included, and surrounding property, days.

Protection is Goal

It has been the stated objective of the Association through the years to protect and maintain the water quality and clean environment of the Chain O' Lakes Sanitary District. The petition sets into motion the study completed by Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission and its recommendation that a sanitary district be formed around the Chain O' Lakes.

The executive committee explained that:

— A sanitary district will create the local authority needed to obtain governmental technical and financial aid to maintain water quality.

— It enables setting of and enforcing of standards for waste disposal and inspection of septic tanks.

— Forming a sanitary district does not obligate the taxpayer to an investment or fixed expense.

— The taxpayer will have a vote on every step.

The petition will go to the Town of Farmington board, since it is the larger of the two townships in which the Chain O' Lakes is located. The board can act to form the sanitary district following a public hearing, or it can reject the proposal.

Board Signs 3 Contracts

Waupaca Schools Announce Hiring, Program Changes

WAUPACA — The board of education signed teaching contracts Tuesday for the coming school year with Susan Kussrow, Penny Singleton and Larry Grace.

The resignations of Mrs. Mary Stork, high school English teacher, and Mrs. Angie Hafeman, health aide, were accepted.

Approval was given to hire Chris Nelson for 10 days this summer to prepare a Capstone program in power mechanics and curriculum development.

A longer bus route was assigned to Layner Moen, eliminating the need for hiring a replacement driver next fall. The new contract calls for an increase of $1,000.

Extra Pay

Separate pay for extra-curricular activities is being asked by the CEA, and the teachers also request that the present right of the board of special compensation be eliminated.

Other charges sought by the CEA include nonteaching aides, extra days off for business and funerals, not making up snow days, maximum class sizes, a change to bi-weekly salary payments, increased hospitalization and retirement benefits as well as salary schedules.

Negotiations began Jan. 21, and initial proposals were identified and published Feb. 18. Tentative agreements have resulted in changes or modifications in requests or in the present agreement.

Gregory Bradley is chairman of the CEA negotiations committee. Other members are Miss Sandra Dykstra and Craig Rodne. Representing the board are Dr. Peter Oberhauser, chairman, Supl. V. J. Wadleigh and Harold Roethel of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards.

Center Ends First Year

NEW LONDON — The Adult Activity Center for the mentally handicapped here is celebrating its first anniversary today.

Beginning a year ago regular weekly meetings have been conducted at the First Congregational Church. Since April 1, two meetings have been held each week. Learning experiences, craft activities, bowling, folk dancing and picnics have highlighted these meetings during the first year.

Mrs. Joe Latza supervised the program with Mrs. J. P. Oberlin assisting. The New London Woman's Club and the New London Jaycees have provided regular volunteers.

During this year numerous organizations have contributed money, entertainment, equipment and gifts for the program. Monies received have provided scholarships, equipment, bowling fees and operating costs. United Fund has contributed money to the operating, since 60 per cent of these costs must come from funds donated to the sponsoring organization.

Since April 1, the program has received state grant-in-aid to help cover operating costs up to 40 per cent. Permanent equipment however must come from donations.

The Center is a part of the Waupaca County Day Care Center Services program sponsored by the Waupaca County Association for Retarded Children, Inc.

Mrs. Lloyd Schultz will be in charge of the summer program with the help of Mrs. J. P. Oberlin, aide and Mrs. Leighton Trice, substitute aide.

The center serves adults 16 years' and older who are mentally handicapped and who live in New London and the surrounding Waupaca County area.

Legality Confirmed Indigent Defense Plan Wins Approval

Courtroom defense for indigents in Outagamie County will be provided from a panel of two attorneys who will each receive a $500 a month retainer fee, county land.

The county board approved the plan Tuesday night, which had the previous backing of the month but was held up to supervisors who felt park development should be coordinated with Appleton and from super-year for development of Lang-dyke Park. Development of a master plan for Plamann Park was narrowly challenged the need for the plan now. "A plan leads to development," he noted. # White House Worried Over Galloping Budget

Rise in Spending and Loss in Revenues Expected to Bring $22.8 Billion Deficit

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — The prospect of the federal budget running dangerously out of control, long viewed inside the Nixon administration as a potential catastrophe only for future years, is now becoming an imminent menace to the economy.

The truth, carefully shielded by high administration officials, is that the bleak picture contained in President Nixon's budget message, Jan. 29, has grown steadily bleaker. In four months, the President's estimated $30.2 billion in deficit spending over two years has budgetary process aroused skepticism from Nixon policy-makers when first enunciated in the fall of 1970 by Alan Greenspan, a private conservative economist close to the Nixon administration. But increasingly, economists in the White House, the Office of Management and Budget, and the Treasury are coming around to Greenspan's concept of the runaway inflationary expectations have away budget.

Actually, nobody ever took such expectations as a major cause of the unexpected and unwelcome rise in long-term interest rates, which bodes no good for full economic recovery. In the opinion of some Nixon economic advisers, the projected, eye-popping deficit could further fuel inflationary expectations.

Crisis Being Hastened
Moreover, the long-range rendezvous with a national fiscal crisis has been hastened by the speed of the deficit's growth when the annual growth of regular and avoidable federal revenue generated by economic growth.

This scenario of the federal government losing control of the down the runaway budget by one of two courses, cut back sharply on spending or raise taxes. Since there seems little inclination to take either course, the safer prediction is simply continuation of a permanent inflation to the peril of the nation.

Herein lies Mr. Nixon's economic Catch-22. To stop the recession, he has set off on an expansive budgetary policy insuring large deficits. But those deficits, inflationary as they are, may help push up interest rates which slow down economic recovery. Thus, the Nixon men no longer are shrugging off all that red ink. They seem still to be trapped in that worst of all worlds — simultaneous inflation and recession.

Assembly GOP Expected to Delay Lucey's Budget Bill

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Democrats' hopes for quick Assembly passage of Gov. Patrick J. Lucey's proposed $1.995 billion state budget were shaken Wednesday night when minority Republicans announced plans to introduce at least 25 amendments.

"We'll be here into the weekend," one legislator said after it was decided at a closed GOP caucus to submit the amendments.

One amendment, beaten 61-38, would have scrapped plans for changing the state's system of shared taxes.

Following a Democratic caucus earlier in the day, 14 party members changed their positions on an amendment which would have prevented the State Building Commission from acquiring land in downtown Madison in advance of legislative approval of a proposed construction project.

That amendment lost, 59-36, although some Madison area Democrats still voted for it. A proposal by Lucey to impose a 40 per cent excise tax on cigars and chewing tobacco survived an amendment attempt to delete the tax.

Other amendments would have increased University of Wisconsin graduate program fees.

"You haven't done the job for the people of Wisconsin," Froehlich said. "You haven't debated the issues."

Majority leader Norman Anderson of Madison replied the issues were well known and had been aired previously in many forums.

Froehlich charged Lucey had set up a "smokescreen" to hide the impact of his tax proposals. Lucey would raise about $177 million in personal and corporate income tax hikes and another $11 million in raised liquor taxes.

Earlier Wednesday, Democratic leaders overcame some opposition within their ranks and won, 66-33, endorsement of the budget submitted by the Joint Finance Committee. The committee's version is nearly identical to Lucey's recommendations.

Those amendments also were killed, although Democratic leaders assured their author that a unified board of regents would have discretion in that area.

Even if the budget remains intact in the Assembly, it faces rough sledding in the GOP-controlled Senate.

Senate Republicans caucused on the budget for more than three hours Wednesday night.

Later, leaders said Lucey's merger proposal and his plans to redistribute state shared taxes definitely would be removed from the budget in the Senate.

A Bicycle Rodeo was staged recently by the Little Chute Auxiliary Police, stressing bicycle safety and handling of the vehicle. Top winners received trophies while bicycle merchandise was awarded to runnersup in various divisions. Competition was held for various age levels after which these top scorers vie for top honors. Presenting awards to the winners are, from left, Eugene Wildenberg, Police Chief Robert Nechodom; Kelly Schuh, second place winner; Barb Blohm, first place, and Donald Janssen. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Loan Interest Rate Extension Is Passed

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Legislation to extend the permanent law provides, "The Milwaukee Democrat said his major objection to the measure was that it would make the 18 per cent rate permanent. Without the extension, the present 18 per cent ceiling on collateral loans would revert to 12 per cent July 1."

The measure, strongly endorsed by Thorp Finance and the present 18 per cent ceiling on collateral loans would revert to 12 per cent July 1.

J. Lucey on a 23-10 vote. A proponent of the bill, Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, said he would seek to session next year and could convince Lucey he should veto the rate at that time if it so desired.

"What this does is permit lending institutions to have a voted for annual sessions," LaFave said.

GOP Drafts Alternate to University Merger

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Key Republicans have drafted legislation to abolish the Coordinating Council for Higher Education (CCHE) and retain two separate boards of regents, it was learned Wednesday.

The measure will be offered as an alternative to Democratic Gov. Patrick J. Lucey's controversial proposal to merge the two university systems.

Under the GOP substitute plan, the CCHE would be replaced by a board of governors made up of top educators and legislators.

The board of governors would oversee the two boards of regents. "This bill is going to go," said Sen. James Devitt, R-Greenfield, one of the principal sponsors of the substitute.

Other sponsors include Rep. Robert Knowles, R-New Richmond, Walter Hollander of Rosendale, Walter Chilsen of Wausau, Reuben LaFave of Oconto, Arthur Cirilli of Superior, Nile Soik of Whitefish Bay, and Gordon Roseleip of Darlington.

Partisan Controversy The proposal was the latest indication that the merger proposal may eventually become bogged down in partisan controversy.

Lucey has called for elimination of the CCHE and merger of the two university systems in
